By
Chester H. Rowell

IF EVEN the United States navy has not stopped gun running to Nicaragua, why be surprised if the revenue cutters do not stopper the bootleggers to New York? The bootlegger, in one illegitimate commodity or another, we shall doubtless have with us always. Whether it is rum, or gin, or drugs, or forbidden vices, the motive is always the same, and the market always exists. Shall we, therefore, say that there shall be no laws against these things, in order that there be no "lawlessness?"

ONE of the tragic freaks of human illogic has always been the man who kills himself to escape being killed. Now comes a San Francisco suicide and goes this confusion one better by taking poison for fear of being poisoned by bootlegging booze. Why do reasoning creatures do such reasonless things?

DOUBTLESS the answer is that they are not reasoning creatures. Few of us are. The imagined danger frightens us worse than the real one. The burnt child does not dread the fire. He is afraid of the bears and wolves of the ancestral forest. Californians fear blizzards, and Easterners earthquakes. We are much more frightened at the sight of a steepjack on a high pole than we would be up on the pole with him. Few men run from real danger. We are all afraid of ghosts.

WITH all the rest of the country, we are decidedly in it, on the radio hook-up. If President Coolidge can talk to the nation on Washington's birthday, so can Candidate Coolidge, or Hoover, or Al Smith, in the next campaign. The whole nation has become, for speech-making purposes, one village. We have, for the first time, the mechanical tools of democracy. It is physically possible to "go to the people." Doubtless more persons have heard Coolidge's voice than ever before heard one voice since the world began. Soon we shall know our candidates and officials as if they were neighbors. If we can develop the intelligence and interest necessary for an effective democracy, we have the tools.

CAN Francisco wants one of the national conventions—preferably the Democratic, a hotel man says, because that lasts longer—and it should have it. Only the Pacific Coast offers the summer climate in which rational action is possible—if that is what is wanted of a convention.

Last time, it was not. The Republican convention was characterized as a "rubber stamp" and the Democratic as a "dog fight." These are not rational processes. If it is the same again, the rubber-stamp nomination will be equivalent to a rubber-stamp election.

THAT would be pleasant, from the standpoint of Republican candidates and managers. But it is not a good thing otherwise, for the country, or even for the Republican party. Both need an opposition party, to put them on their mettle. If the only thing they become is a rubber stamp, they become useless as an opposition. If the Democratic party ceases to fill this function, its place is likely to be taken by another, not so useful and more dangerous. The Republican party needs the Democratic party, and wishes it well—just well enough always to hope to win the election and never quite to do so.

THE "Doc" is going. The average age of general practitioners in the smaller towns, a recent survey shows, is 52, with no one coming in to fill the place when it becomes vacant. The younger men, graduates of the elaborately equipped modern medical schools, stay in the cities, where are the hospitals and laboratories on which they have learned to depend. And even there, they tend to specialize early. The "Doc," who used to get up in the night, to feed you pills and consolation, is going.

WHO will take his place? Not a new crop of cheap "docs," certainly. Medical training is too expensive. And individualized personal service was never cheap, except by underpaying the server. Modern medical services can no longer be had at that cost. And yet this service, to rich, poor and middle class alike, is going.

IT is for the medical profession itself to tackle this administrative problem, unless it wants to see it taken out of its hands, as was done in Germany and England. And the first thing the profession will have to learn is that it can not be done by the present individualistic methods. As well make automobiles to order, in blacksmith shops. Unless medicine is socialized by the physicians, it will be done to them. Long before "Doc" is retired for old age, some organized service will have taken his place.

Britain Accepts U. S. Disarming Plan

PROPOSAL BY COOLIDGE IS GIVEN O. K.

Hopes of Administration Center on Agreement by 3 Powers for Naval Cut

NOTE SENT BY LONDON

English Willing to Enter Discussion by Nations For Armament Reduction

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Great Britain today accepted President Coolidge's proposal for a five-power naval limitation conference.

In making public the British note, state department officials said they considered it a categorical acceptance. The note said the matter of ratios and the relation of the conference to the preparatory disarmament commission would require adjustment.

Earlier rejection of the plan by France and Italy has turned the administration's hope to the alternative Coolidge plan for a three-power pact with Britain and Japan. Informal negotiations will begin soon, it is expected, although officials here are only mildly optimistic of success.

CHAMBERLAIN TELLS OF BRITISH ACCEPTANCE

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Acceptance by Great Britain of President Coolidge's proposals for a conference to discuss further limitation of naval armaments was announced by Sir Austen Chamberlain, the foreign secretary, in the house of commons, today.

The British reply was the last to be received from the four nations—Japan, France, Italy and Britain—addressed by Mr. Coolidge.

It was explained at the foreign office some days ago that Britain was delaying her final judgment until statements of opinion had been obtained from the dominions.

METHODIST PASTOR APPROVES CATHOLIC CONFESSIONAL AND URGES DRAMATICS IN CHURCH

Approving the principle of the confessional of the Catholic church, endorsing "The Miracle" play and suggesting introduction in the Methodist church of a director of dramatics, the Rev. Charles F. Seitter, pastor of the First Methodist church, in his sermon, last night, indicated a program that would revolutionize the manner of worship by Methodist congregations.

Taking "The Miracle" as his subject, the pastor reviewed the history of dramatics, commenting on its limitation in early history to religious productions and following down to its stage of commercialization and general degeneration into trashy and irrelevant productions.

COOLIDGE WILL ACT SLOWLY IN CHINESE CRISIS

Brigadier General Butler Ordered to Join Outfit at Shanghai

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—With the caution characterizing his domestic policies, President Coolidge has decided to "go slow" in the Chinese crisis.

Extremists on both sides demand immediate action to salvage American prestige and protect American lives, endangered by the civil war closing in on Shanghai today. Business interests are pressing for immediate landing of U. S. marines at Shanghai and full co-operation with the British, who have thrown out defense lines around the international settlement there. Chairmen Borah and Porter, of the senate and urged acceptance of Nationalist demands and negotiation of new "equal treaties, relying on the peaceful weapon of friendship."

The president prefers to wait and see. He has ordered American marines to stay aboard ship until there is immediate danger to foreign lives. If and when they land, they are to operate within the international settlement and stay off Chinese territory.

Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler, known as the star trouble maker of the marines, is going to China. Orders issued here call for him to embark from the west coast this week to join his outfit which, a few weeks ago, he regretfully saw depart for the Chinese trouble zone without him.

BOULDER DAM AT END

Swing-Johnson Measure Is Regarded As Sidetracked During Present Congress

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A rebellion against use of the cloture rule was begun in the senate this afternoon, after the rule had been adopted to force consideration of the Andrews prohibition reorganization bill.

The vote was 55 to 27, more than the two-thirds required for invocation of the seldom-used drastic rule.

This action probably will assure passage of the prohibition measure and gives it precedence in the senate. The farm bloc is angry at the Andrews bill for reorganization of the prohibition department.

The vote was 55 to 27, more than the two-thirds required for invocation of the seldom-used drastic rule.

Woman Who Predicted End Of World Is Wanted For Questioning

(By United Press) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Margaret Rowan, cult leader, who predicted the world's end, was being sought here today for questioning in connection with an attack upon Dr. Burt Fuller, the outgrowth, police say, of factional differences in the Seventh Day Adventist Reformed church.

U. S. PLANES WILL CONTINUE FLIGHT, IN SPITE OF TRAGEDY

Deaths of Two Airmen in Argentina Will Not Halt Trip

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Pan-American "Good will" flight will continue, despite Saturday's tragedy at Buenos Aires, which cost two flyers' lives.

The war department has cabled Major Dargue, in command of the flight, that he may continue, leaving to him the details as to starting time.

Meantime, President Coolidge has cabled condolences on the accident, which resulted in the deaths of Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lt. John E. Benton, noted flyers.

A war department communique Sunday explained that the hull of Captain Woolsey's plane, evidently from him the plane New York. The planes, traveling at least 100 miles an hour, locked together because of this situation and caused the fatal crash to earth.

ARGENTINA PAYS TRIBUTE TO FLYERS BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 28.—The Argentine today paid tribute to two American "Good will" flyers, killed in line of duty, with funeral services at St. John's pro-cathedral.

The bodies of Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lt. John E. Benton will be placed aboard the steamer Vauban, after the services, and the ship will leave for the United States. Then the Good will flight will go on.

Captain Woolsey and Lieutenant Benton were killed Saturday, when their plane, the Detroit, collided with the plane New York, in mid-air, as the four craft of the squadron prepared to land at Palomar.

FRAUD CITED IN ELK HILLS OIL RESERVE

Grants by Denby and Fall Are Illegal, Declares U. S. Supreme Tribunal

AFFECTS FUEL DEPOT

Petroleum Companies Not Entitled to Payment for Expenditures in Hawaii

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The U. S. supreme court today cancelled E. L. Doheny's leases on the famous Elk Hills oil reserves, in California.

These oil rights, worth untold millions, were granted to two Doheny companies by Secretary of the Interior A. B. Fall and Secretary of the Navy Denby, in return for promises to construct and fill an oil naval reservoir at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, naval base.

The decision was a complete government victory on all points. The court held on three major points:

1.—The leases were invalid because obtained by fraud and corruption.

2.—That the navy and interior departments were not authorized by the 1920 oil leasing act to buy oil fuel depots at Hawaii and other places by trading navy crude oil for them.

(This was generally taken as an indication that the government was certain to win a similar victory in the Teapot-Dome lease case, now awaiting argument before the high court.)

3.—That the fraudulent nature of the leases and the lack of congressional authorization prevented Doheny's companies from having any right to be paid for some $10,000,000 spent by them on the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, fuel storages tank.

7 'Baby Farm' Deaths Are Probed

OTTAWA, Que., Feb. 28.—Deaths of seven infants at a "baby farm" were under investigation today and Mrs. Diane La Croix, elderly attendant, was being held as a material witness.

The seven infants have died since August and three of the deaths have been reported since January.

Two infants in Mrs. La Croix's charge were being cared for at the jail today, following arrest of the woman.

ESTRADA GIVEN PEN TERM FOR MEXICAN PLOT

Leader of Conspirators Against Calles Must Go to Prison

(By United Press) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Gen. Enrique Estrada, convicted of plotting to overthrow the Calles government in Lower California, was sentenced to serve one year and nine months in the federal penitentiary and fined $10,000, here today.

The former Mexican secretary of war took the sentence unflinchingly, as Federal Judge Henning pronounced the penalty for Estrada's leadership of a band of 155 men, captured near San Diego, last October.

Judge Henning expressed regret upon the need of passing sentence upon a young man, who had at one time had unlimited possibilities to become powerful in the affairs of his country.

12 Others Sentenced Generals R. E. Arnaiz and Nicolas Rodriguez and 10 other asserted leaders were sentenced at the same time.

General Arnaiz was sentenced to the federal penitentiary for one year and four months and ordered to pay a fine of $5000. Rodriguez drew a sentence of one year and two months and a fine of $5000.

BORAH CORRESPONDS WITH CALLES ON OIL SITUATION

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Calles, of Mexico, has advised Chairman Borah, of the senate foreign relations committee, that only 22 oil companies out of 380 have failed to comply with the Mexican land laws.

Calles' telegram to Borah was made public by Borah today, as a reply to a request Borah made of Calles for information concerning the Mexican oil land situation.

METAL CLOTH NOW IN VOGUE FOR ULTRA-SMART COSTUMES

HERE ARE SHOWN TWO OF THE SMART METAL CLOTH GOWNS DESCRIBED BY MONSIEUR BENDEL. ONE IS THE GOLD AND TURQUOISE HE DWELLS UPON SO FEELINGLY, AND THE OTHER OFFERS A HAPPY UNION OF GOLD METAL CLOTH AND BROWN CHIFFON, SUITABLE, DECLARES MONSIEUR BENDEL, FOR THE SMALLER WOMAN.

BY HENRI BENDEL
For NEA Service

The vogue of the moment in Paris is the evening gown of metal cloth. It is the ideal mid-season choice since it suggests neither winter nor spring and somehow conveys the idea of the heights of the season.

Some seasons ago designers had to woo women away from brocades and gorgeous fabrics, and teach them to like simpler fabrics and less ostentatious effects, now they have to win women back to them.

Paris receives graciously the gown more graciously than the Americans. With good reason. Continental women represent an older civilization and a more sophisticated type. They can wear, and prefer to wear more sophisticated type of gown than the American women, who are much more youthful in type and in tastes, and consequently find chiffons and lighter fabrics easier to wear.

However, what Paris decrees, eventually carries, and the metal cloth gown is crowding diaphanous materials for honors. Certainly it is highly appropriate that gowns for evening should have glamour as well as charm, and Paris means they shall.

Brocades of Silver and Gold

I am showing photographs today of two of these new types of evening gowns with quite a new and different feeling about them, showing these brocades of silver and gold and heavy metal cloths rule the world of fashion today. They admit of no trimming or of very careful trimming, since they are so highly decorative in themselves.

Typical of the triumph of line is the very simple model with the slightly draped front. The material is gold and turquoise blue metal cloth with an indistinct weave and a very yellow luster. The neckline is a V both front and back, that of the back being lower with a band across the shoulders for the very obvious reason of keeping the neckline as it should be. A straight band of the cloth is drawn about the hips and caught at each side of the front with rhinestone buckles.

Must Be Discreet Mixing

The combination of beads and metal cloth must be a discreet one, but it is admirably handled in the cloth of gold gown with scalloped tiers of gold beads forming six rows of fringe and a narrow sash with fringed ends.

Less rich and heavy in appearance than either of these, and consequently more appropriate for the small woman is the combination of brown chiffon and gold brocade. This frock has a paneled back and a long sash which ties in front. Insets of chiffon at the sides and front that tones in beautifully with the gold soften the lines and give the fashionable uneven length so becoming in evening attire.

Velvet With Gold Frock

With the gold frock, the colorful cloak of velvet, lined with cloth of gold is an excellent choice. Often a scarf of colored tulle or chiffon softens the neckline of such a frock so that it is more flattering to the woman who is not of a decided coloring and finds elaborate materials hard to live up to.

Jewelry worn with the metal frock should be limited to a pearl necklace or possibly a few jeweled circles about the wrist. In footwear most women prefer the sandal or gold or silver or of brocade, but many wear plain satin slippers of some color that is emphasized in the brocade.

Youth's Dream Links Together Student Scribes

GREEN CASTLE, Ind., Feb. 28.—From the altruistic dream of a young college newspaper editor has come the most comprehensive movement for welding newspaper workers into a profession.

L. H. Millikan, of Indianapolis, was editor of the DePauw university daily paper, in 1909, when he asked several members of his staff to join in forming a journalistic fraternity.

He had in mind no more than a campus organization to perpetuate the memory of the staff. With Millikan met Ardis Hutchins, Minor Hedges, Foster Raddick, Eugene Pulliam and H. Foster Clippinger.

They selected Sigma Delta Chi as the name of their fraternity and appeared on the campus with colors of black and white, selected to suggest the newspaper's black ink on white paper. It struggled along and presently became the leading college journalism fraternity.

The fraternity now has more than 4000 members with a personnel bureau maintained to supply newspapermen or publications throughout the country. Prof. Ray L. French, of the University of North Dakota, in Grand Forks, is president. A bronze plate marks the birthplace of the fraternity at DePauw.

companies were entitled to recover from the government some $10,000,000 spent on development of the navy oil depot at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Quotes Old Legal Axiom
"He who seeks equity must do equity," Butler said, quoting an old legal axiom. He gave several precedents in fraud suits previously decided by the supreme court.

Repeating that the leases and contracts were "consummated by corruption and fraud," Butler said that the petitioners "stand as wrongdoers and cannot seek repayment of unauthorized improvements."

"No storage at Pearl Harbor was authorized," he said.

Only congress could repay Doheny and it has taken no action, Butler concluded.

Advance Teapot Case

The U. S. supreme court today advanced the Teapot Dome naval oil lease annulment suit for a hearing on April 11.

The government won the case in circuit court of appeals on the ground that Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil company obtained its lease on the Wyoming oil reserve by fraud.

Closing the river seriously interfered with foreign shipping. French police were ordered to take the strongest measures to prevent activity of Li's men in the French concession, after it was charged Cantonese agents had been kidnapped. That, the French said, violated neutrality agreements.

Shanghai university, notorious as a Communist center, was closed by native police.

More British troops landed from the steamer Magantic, which was used as an American transport during the World war. With their arrival, General Duncan took over control of all the British forces in Shanghai.

After an inspection of the defense lines, however, he was forced to take to his bed with a slight fever.

SCOTTISH WAR MEMORIAL TO BE OPEN SOON

EDINBURGH, Feb. 28.—It is expected that the Scottish war memorial, which takes the form of a shrine within the precincts of Edinburgh castle, will be completed in August. The outside of the building is finished and good progress is being made with the decoration of the interior.

When the design for the memorial was originally considered it was specially desired that the memorial building should not interfere with the old skyline of the castle. The cockburn association, whose business it is to see that the historical aspects of the city are preserved, took a special interest in this matter and Sir Robert Lorimer, the architect of the memorial, succeeded largely in meeting their wishes by his design, which according to the Duke of Atholl, chairman of the memorial committee, has not materially altered the old castle buildings in height or their general appearance.

The one exception is that, as the shrine projects somewhat further forward than the face of the building, which it displaced, it is, from certain aspects, more aggressive and prominent. The highest portion of the center of the center gable is just the height of the old cupola, but the difficulty is to find the exact kind of necessary final.

The erection of the final has occasioned some misgiving among the members of the Cockburn association and a number of members supported a motion complaining that the old skyline of the castle was threatened. It was pointed out that from certain aspects the main tower would be obscured and that the Union Jack would not be seen flying over the city.

The proposal, however, that no further interference should be made with the skyline by the erection of a final or otherwise was not approved by the association, the majority being content with an assurance from the Duke of Atholl that nothing would be erected until the citizens had had an opportunity of judging a model of the final.

File Appeal From Orange Judgment

Mr. and Mrs. S. Luther Holland, of Orange, have appealed to superior court from a judgment of Justice G. W. Ingie, of Orange, who awarded H. Koeppe, of Santa Ana, $110 against the Hollands. The judgment was based upon a claim for labor and material alleged to be due to Ed Laufman, who assigned his claim to Koeppe. The judgment was rendered by default. The Hollands have appealed through Attorney A. E. Koepsel, of Orange.

DEFENDS COLONY CONDITIONS

Editor Register: In the editorial, "Utopia, Not For Sale," of February 23, it is stated: "These remarks are prompted by the views of the troubles of another of those co-operative colonies—this time an organization that held forth in Louisiana."

If reference is made to the colony at Newlano, which originally was in the Antelope valley of this state, may I be permitted to say that the use of the past tense, in connection with it, is rather premature.

"The Llano Colonist" is a 16-page weekly printed there, containing always at least two pages of "Colony Diary," an account of each day's doings and happenings. From the issue of Feb. 19 I quote: "Crop conditions at present are better for us now than ever before in the gardens, orchard and farm. . . . I can see nothing but the most satisfying success in our future operations along these lines. . . . Not a single firm has expressed a desire to crowd us for payment or in any way refused to ship us goods, which to me is evidence of the fact that we have made good with those with whom we deal in a business way. . . . As I look out the window I see every colonist, within sight, busy as though there was no friction at all. I also know that this condition exists all over the colony."

The issue of January 22, contains "An Open Letter to the World," in which is a statement that they are in sympathy with and support the present management, signed by the great majority of the working members.

The court proceedings instituted by a dissatisfied few, were to be resumed, after a three weeks' recess, on February 23, and meanwhile a perusal of the Colony Diary shows it to be very much alive.

WHAT MR. HALE SAID

Pacifica, Calif., Feb. 26, '27.
Editor Register:—In your paper of February 25, you report me as saying, before the Associated Chamber of Commerce, that my taxes under the real estate tax on a $6,000,000 bond issue for 40 years, would be $6.86, while under an all-property tax I would pay $88.85.

This is an error.
What I did say was that under a $6,000,000 bond issue for 40 years I would pay $31.99 tax on real property, and that on all-property the tax would be $38.85, or $6.86 more under a tax on all-property.

I wish you would please correct this.

Yours truly,
H. H. HALE.

SOCIETY

Asiatic Explorer Will Be Presented by Ebell Society

Ordinary section meetings and general Ebell society happenings, while of interest to members of that organization yet have lapsed into comparative insignificance in view of the fact that Ebell is planning to introduce Roy Chapman Andrews, famous Asiatic explorer, at the general meeting next Monday afternoon.

In view of the importance of the speaker and his Asiatic expeditions, (he will be especially remembered as the discoverer of the dinosaur eggs) the society has decided to make the meeting open to everyone upon the payment of an admission fee, and present the program in the auditorium of the high school in order to accommodate the crowd that will undoubtedly be drawn by the explorer's fame.

When one considers that the expeditions into central Asia have had more definite results of interest to scientists than almost any event in modern history, the prospect of hearing the man who led this third expedition, is one that is well calculated to intrigue every thinking person in the city. That the third expedition definitely established that Asia is the mother of life in Europe and America, is one of the most important scientific facts of the day. It was proven by the unearthing of fossilized dinosaur skeletons, and by the discovery of the now famous dinosaur eggs as well as the fossilized bones of other prehistoric monsters. The hope of the expedition now, is to unearth the bones of prehistoric men, which would establish the first authentic evidence of the long-discussed "missing link."

It has been declared that Mr. Andrews has caught the spirit of romantic adventure in his personal story which is augmented by the wonderful motion pictures which have perpetuated details of the expedition. The pictures present a panorama of both prehistoric and modern life on the Asiatic desert, that region so little known to the average American.

The explorer will tell countless details of the trip, for which preparations were the most colorful and picturesque imaginable. The expedition consists of forty-one men, fourteen Americans and the rest, Mongol and Chinese attendants. Seven modern motor-cars are in sharp contrast to the 143 camels. Fourteen tents are carried, and when camp is made, the appearance is that of a regular village.

The expedition is sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History in co-operation with the American-Asiatic magazine, and so far has yielded, in addition to prehistoric findings, over 3000 mammals, 1200 fish, reptiles and birds. The expedition is in sharp contrast to the 143 camels. Fourteen tents are carried, and when camp is made, the appearance is that of a regular village.

Ebell Society

New Section Formed

Formation of a business law section for Ebell members, was an important club event of the past week, the preliminary meeting having been held Friday morning in the clubhouse with twenty-two Ebell members signing for membership.

Attorney Clara Cushman, who has consented to take the leadership, was present and gave a brief talk on law in general. Mrs. Archie V. Herr, curator, has announced that the section will be an open one and any Ebell member who is interested, may identify herself with it in time to enjoy the series of lectures that will be featured during the remainder of the club year.

The section will meet on the fourth Wednesday of each month in the lounge, and Mrs. Cushman has outlined her subjects as follows: March 23, "Domestic Relations," April 27, "Wills and Inheritances," May 25, "Properties and Property Rights," June 22, "Contracts." In presenting her program plan, Mrs. Cushman declared that her talks will be mostly outlines of the more important things that women should know about the laws that most directly concern them.

Santa Ana Pistol Team Victorious Over San Pedro

The San Pedro police pistol team fell easy victim to the Santa Ana police five in the fourth match between the two squads held yesterday afternoon on the Edinger street range here.

Santa Ana officers led their opponents by 132 points. Neither of the teams was in good condition for the meet and both were handicapped by a strong wind blowing across the range of fire. Santa Ana's total score was 1258 and San Pedro's 1126.

High gun for the day was held by Capt. F. W. Howard of the Santa Ana team with a 259.
The scores were as follows:
Santa Ana—Perry 258; Jaynes, 255; Peterson, 232; Hershey, 254, and Howard, 259.
San Pedro—Smith, 218; Schubert, 254; Jackson, 223; Wicks, 218, and Dunn, 213.

Woman Removed From Hospital

Mrs. George R. Drysdale, Costa Mesa woman, who was injured Saturday morning, when run down by an automobile driven by Mrs. Ed Moore, 820 French street, at Fourth and Sycamore streets, was taken to her home from the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday. She was not seriously hurt.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

"The Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening on the average case in ten days and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable results have been obtained with recent and not yet fully developed ruptures and many old ones also.
No legstraps or elastic belts are used. Can be worn while bathing and are highly sanitary being impervious to sweat.

Letters from highly satisfied clients available.
Advertised mail order contraptions as well as elastic belts with chafing filthy legstrap and all salves and medicines are absolutely worthless.

Call on me and I will show you. Business engagements prevent visiting any other city in this section. C. F. Redlich, Rupture Appliance Expert, Home office, 555 Boston Block, Minneapolis, Minnesota—Ady.

SCHOOL INSTITUTE TOPICS ANNOUNCED

"The Struggle for Social Justice" is the topic of a lecture to be given next Monday night by Dr. Frederic P. Woolner, of the University of California at Los Angeles, in the Orange union high school, according to an announcement made today by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

The lecture, open to the general public, will be given in connection with the Orange County Teachers' institute.

The second institute lecture will be held in the evening of March 16, at the same place, when Dr. Vierling Kersey, prominent educator, connected with the University of California faculty, will speak on "Re-energizing Teaching."

Dr. Elizabeth L. Woods, of Los Angeles, is scheduled for the April institute lecture, set for the twentieth of that month. Her topic will be "The Child and His School."

TWO SUITS FILED BY ROCK COMPANY

Two actions have been filed in superior court by the Orange County Rock company, both pressing material claims in connection with construction of the Aliso bridge on the state highway, in Orange county. Each action demands judgment for $5561.73.

B. Crossland, contractor on the bridge job, and his bonding company, the U. S. Fidelity and Guarantee company, are named defendants in one suit. The other is filed against these two defendants and various county officials, including the board of supervisors, auditor and treasurer.

Attorneys Bishop and Wellington represent the plaintiff.

Should Physicians Fees Be Increased?

In every mercantile business, excepting those conducted on a strictly cash basis, the matter of credit losses are always taken into consideration in determining the selling cost of the product. Why then, shouldn't this same attitude be taken by our physicians in establishing a fair fee?

Do you realize that if this was done by the Medical Profession that their charges would increase from fifty to one hundred per cent? Because the physician is seldom a mercenary man and is usually very slow to press a claim is a real reason why he is entitled to prompt consideration by every family who requires his services.

The profession which attracts men because of its high idealism and the opportunity it affords to serve mankind does not find in its ranks many who are actuated by greed for gain only.

The Physician is subject to the beck and call of humanity. He is always found where the suffering is most intense; in time of flood, fire, tornado, wrecks or accidents the first call that goes out is for physicians. History tells of the marvelous heroism of these men. When the call comes they never fail—and money is the last thing they think of.

But few know of the hundreds of thousands of dollars—in medicine, time, service and advice—that have been cheerfully contributed by our physicians, to the needy of our own county.

It behooves those who can to pay their doctors promptly and prove their appreciation for a service that is really priceless. Why not send your physician a check today for the amount now due him?

Symphony Orchestra
Is Heard in First
Vesper Service

Vespers—one of the loveliest words in the English language, both for its own musical sound and for what it connotes—were observed yesterday afternoon in the most delightful manner imaginable when the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra gave the first of its series of four Sunday afternoon services in the Ebell clubhouse.

Those attracted to the auditorium by the announcement that the series was to open with a program to which vocal numbers were to be contributed by Lambert Baker, found one of the most interesting musical events of the winter as a reward and all were agreed that never has the orchestra presented a more delightful performance nor a better balanced program.

The acoustics of the Ebell auditorium are excellent for a musical performance and the program seemed to have full value no matter in what part of the house a patron was seated. Director D. C. Clanton's conducting was irreproachable and the orchestra of over thirty pieces did most artistic ensemble work.

In the absence of the president of the organization, D. Eymann Huff, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, business manager, made a friendly little impromptu talk in which she pointed out that the orchestra had been so well patronized during the past year when it appeared in various churches of the city that there was justification for expecting continued patronage when the recitals were transferred to the more spacious Ebell auditorium. She spoke also of the favorable comparison the orchestra enjoyed with that of Los Angeles which she had heard recently at the Biltmore when the Wa Wan club held its reciprocity program, and ended by outlining the attractions promised for vesper programs to follow at intervals of every two weeks for the next month and a half.

The program which followed was a varied one indeed, with numbers so selected as to appeal to every musical taste. The overture, "La Dame Blanche" by Boieldieu, was particularly well-selected as the opening number, its various movements being encompassed with a smoothness that lent the final touch of beauty.

The "Hungarian Dance" which followed, is a favorite Brahms number and met with enthusiastic applause as a tribute to its brilliancy as did the Spanish dance by Moszkowsky in the same group, which was played with the dash and fire necessary to the composition.

Probably the orchestra program reached its climax in the "Unfinished Symphony" of Schubert, for while remaining members were beautifully rendered, nothing could surpass, and few selections could approach it in the understanding beauty with which it was rendered. "Dolores" by Waldteufel, was sweetly pretty, and of course the choruses of the entire program were summed up in the finale, selections from Verdi's "Aida" whose varied numbers were arranged in striking contrast yet woven together most beautifully and smoothly, yet nothing could be more perfectly rendered than the "Unfinished Symphony."

The vocal selections which were given by Lambert Baker, popular baritone of Los Angeles, met with such enthusiasm from the audience, that Mr. Baker was compelled to return for several curtain calls. Mrs. Baker played his accompaniment and his chosen numbers were "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Harker, and the magnificent "Invictus" written by Huhn for Henry's triumphant lines. The clubhouse auditorium was made a gracious spot for a musical program. The heavy velvet curtains of the stage, bathed in the rosy glow of special lights, formed the background for the players, while great baskets of feathery golden acacia lent a cheerful, sunny effect. The organization seemed particularly well-balanced, the violins being an outstanding feature, with richness added by three cellos, and the wind instruments adding their clear and bird-like notes.

The next vesper service will be on Sunday afternoon, March 13, with Mendelssohn, Verdi, Saint-Saens and other noted composers to be represented and a prominent

Silver Wedding Offers
Incentive for Happy
Dinner Party

Orchid and silver beautifully combined in all decorative features, made an appropriate setting for a group of diners who on Saturday night, aided Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lutz celebrate their silver wedding anniversary, at St. Ann's Inn.

The hosts presided at a table whose appointments gleamed in the light of tall orchid candles rising from silver candlesticks, tulle tied, while place cards and all minor decorative features sounded the same lovely note. Mrs. Lutz planned the table decorations and was commended for the artistic which she displayed. The chosen color scheme extended even to the wedding cake served with the final course of the delicious dinner, it too, being a symphony in orchid and silver.

In the privacy afforded by the doors and curtains which make it possible to seclude a portion of the general dining-room of the Inn, Mr. and Mrs. Lutz called upon their guests to aid in presenting a general program of music and talks which was most enjoyable and which continued throughout a happy evening.

Members of the family circle and close friends comprised the guests, all of whom took occasion to extend their congratulations to the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago, and wish for them, many future anniversary celebrations as happy as the silver one.

Included in the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lutz, John, Dorothy and Adele Lutz; Mr. and Mrs. G. Lutz and the Misses Florence and Helen Lutz; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hoefler, the Misses Florence, Grace and Evelyn Hoefler; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoefler, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoefler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andres, Miss Viola Andres, Mr. and Mrs. John Boose, Mr. and Mrs. William Passer, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Nickel, Miss Mary Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wilhelm, and the two sons of the hosts, Messrs Laurence and Howard Lutz.

College Folk Enjoy
Return to Childhood

A "kid party" was held by the Santa Ana Junior college students Friday night at which customary dignity was cast aside and the dancers re-lived the days of pig-tails and freckled noses. The fanciful couples, dressed in unique costumes, attended the affair held in Andrews gymnasium.

The dance was given by the Men's organization as the annual party for the college co-eds. To Miss Kate Benton and Allen Goddard went the box of chocolates offered as a prize for the most attractive dancing couple on the waxed floor. Miss Benton dressed in a costume of the old fashioned girl with wide skirts and close-fitting bodice while Goddard wore the costume and the mien of a preacher.

The students today were complimenting Lawrence Mingo and other officers of the Men's organization on their skill in planning the affair which was attended by about 75 couples. A number of special dances furnished variety to the program.

The beauty cup, offered by the Brotherhood of Bachelors to the queen of beauty among junior college co-eds, was awarded to Miss Sara Hales by Henrik Van Rensselaer, grand eulogized bachelor. Other prizes were given for honorable mention to Miss Puritan Seitz and Miss Goldie Jacobson. Faculty members who chaperoned the dance and acted as judges of the contest to select the most attractive couple were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. William Foote and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Harris.

Betrothal Is Revealed
To Friendly Guests
At Luncheon

All surmises and interested questions of the close friends of Miss Flora Pritchett, regarding her reported engagement to John Bruns, had their answer Saturday when formal announcement of the betrothal was made at a delightful luncheon given by Miss Pritchett's sister, Mrs. Sam Jernigan, and one of her closest friends, Miss Helene Kubitz.

The party was staged at the Jernigan home on North Sycamore street, and called together a group of friends who were on the quiver with excitement as to whether there might be romantic developments. They were not left long in suspense, for just as they were finished with the fruit cocktail with which the luncheon menu opened, a messenger delivered a great cluster of deep pink roses to Miss Pritchett, and with them, a tell-tale jeweler's package which held the ring. Simultaneously with the arrival of the flowers, Miss Kubitz asked the guests to don the clever little candy bouquets which lay at each place.

When the flower cluster was lifted, a rose ribbon attached to each, drew an arrow-pierced heart from beneath a gay scarlet-petaled candle-holder, and each heart bore a tiny white card on which was lettered in gold, "Flora and John; Betrothed." Happy wishes of the guests were coupled with demands to see the beautiful solitaire and Miss Pritchett obligingly made the rounds of the tables that all might see her engagement ring.

All details of the luncheon menu were in keeping with the romantic theme, for place cards were rosy hearts with lovers pictured on each; the salad was molded in heart form and in the final course, the delectable cherry ice cream was in Cupid form, each upright little god of Love to be tied with a white satin ribbon sash.

In the afternoon, the small tables were cleared away, and Miss Kubitz and Mrs. Jernigan passed out quilt blocks with colorful patches to be applied in flower form, and the guests spent a happy afternoon in which fingers flew no faster than tongues. Late in the afternoon, Miss Pritchett, who makes her home with Sheriff and Mrs. Jernigan, was prevailed upon to open her "treasure chest" and show some of the lovely things she has been accumulating for her future home.

Hand-embroidered linens for every conceivable use, luncheon and dinner sets, towels of every variety, bed linens, silken comforts and a bewildering assortment of lingerie were some of the dainty articles shown, to the admiration and interest of the guests.

Miss Pritchett is with Wells and Bressler and is a popular member of the Business and Professional Women's club where she officiates as sergeant-at-arms. She made a very lovely party honoree in an afternoon gown of apple-green crepe de chine, with applied motifs in a needlepoint design in pale rose. The color was particularly becoming to her very decided blondeness. Her fiancé, Mr. Bruns, is one of the prominent young ranchers of the vicinity and is the Several out-of-town guests were among those asked to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Jernigan and Miss Kubitz, among them being Mrs. Paul Bruns, Mrs. Harvey Higby, Mrs. Clyde Pritchett, Mrs. A. J. Garcia, Miss Nancy Marshall, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Scott Willson, of Hemet.

Of the Santa Ana guests invited, it was regrettable that Mrs. Nora Bruns was taken ill the morning of the party, and could not be present to enjoy the announcement of the betrothal of her son and Miss Pritchett. Other Santa Anas on the list included in addition to the honoree, Mrs. E. D. Caskey, Miss Eva Dean Caskey, Mrs. Joe B. Irvine, Mrs. Faber Bray, Mrs. J. L. McAdams, Mrs. Bess K. Mathis, Mr. Eloise Ray, Miss Louise Kaiser, Miss Elaine Wharton, Miss Ethel Coffman, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Miss Martha Whitson, Miss Hannah Marston, Mrs. Emmett Foster Elliott, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Miss Mabel Wiseman and Miss Charlotte Morrison.

S. A. Country Club

The March bridge evening at Santa Ana Country club was one of the enjoyable features of late last week, when guests were so numerous that seventeen tables were required for their accommodation.

The contest was an exciting one in which victory was achieved by Mrs. C. Duane Holmes and E. G. Nelson, scoring high. Mrs. A. G. Flagg and A. W. Dula, second high. A hand-made tapestry bag was Mrs. Holmes' reward, and a smoking set with half a dozen individual ash trays was presented Mr. Nelson, while a box of a dozen small pots of Taylor's marmalades for Mrs. Flagg and a leather set of wallet, key-ring and match safe for Mr. Dula were second prizes.

Unique Celebration in Moore Home Honors
Two Little Maids

A uniquely happy celebration was held yesterday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Moore, 501 East Fourth street, when the anniversary of the arrival of the two little daughters, the Misses Ruby and Opal Moore, was celebrated.

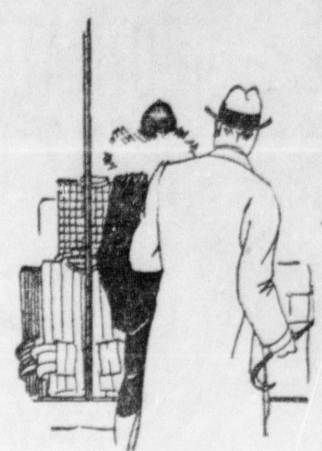

Ruby and Opal are very charming little girls with much reason for self-congratulation in the fact that whereas most parents have to accept the children sent them by fate, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moore, chose them, very carefully. And it was just five years ago yesterday that the two children, then but five and three years old, came to gladden the Moore home as adopted daughters.

In the five years, no friends have been dearer than Evelyn and Marian Brannan, young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Brannan, so they were asked to the annual celebration, and helped enjoy the delectable chicken dinner served at noon. Other pleasures of the day included the special treat of attending a Sunday matinee.

Each year, the date is celebrated with all the ceremony and joy that attaches to a birthday party, and probably there is no family in the city where the bond of love is stronger than in the Moore home where the two little daughters have every advantage of music, travel and love that fortunate daughters may have.

Allen in forgetting her evening's run of bad luck with cards. The interesting contest progressed, the players enjoyed punch and bonbons at intervals.

Pain is the message conveyed to the brain by the nerves, which are the telephone wires of the body. Any undue pressure upon a nerve caused by injury or inflammation in any part will set these wires going and notify the individual that something is wrong. These friendly warnings of nature should be heeded. When pain comes, therefore, we should not try to kill it, but to relieve it by removing the cause.

In order to remove the cause of your pain, sickness or disease, we must first find the location of that cause. This is done by taking an X-Ray picture of the bony segments of the spine where the nerves are subject to pressure as they emit through the little openings. These nerves carry all of the nerve force or functional energy received by the heart, lungs, liver, stomach, kidneys, bowels, etc., and by viewing an X-Ray you can see the condition with your own eyes. This assures you that your case is not being guessed at.

If you are sick don't say you have tried everything until you have consulted us about your case. For the next seven days the coupon below will entitle the bearer to a complete spinal examination, and without charge or obligation we will make a standard size X-Ray picture showing the exact cause of your trouble. 1/2 AN EGG—

In November will pay for the extra cost of a Southern California Farm Bureau

ACCREDITED CHICK

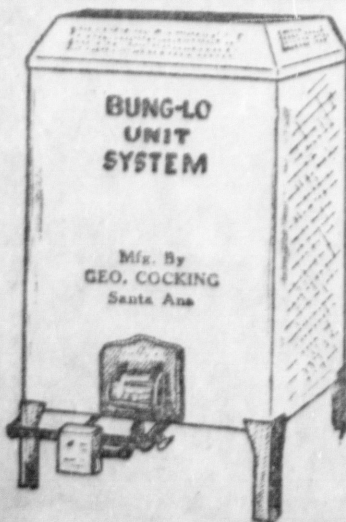

IF YOU want the best in baby chicks or hatching eggs—demand the "Accredited" certificate when you buy. It is your protection against inferior strains—your assurance of getting high quality eggs and chicks produced under the rigid regulations of the Farm Bureau Accredited Breeders and Hatcheries Project—a movement organized to raise poultry standards in Southern California.

Since its organization four years ago, the average profit per hen has increased each year, despite a decrease in the price of eggs. This has been accomplished through scientific breeding and more rigid grading of fowls, resulting in a substantial average increase in egg production.

Every precaution is taken to insure quality—every flock and hatchery are under strict supervision for feeding, care and sanitation. All dams and cockerels are personally handled by the Project Inspectors before breeding, and all imperfect fowls are culled out. Hens are mated only with male birds from high record dams—dams with a minimum of 200 eggs in the pullet year.

The result is better hatching eggs; chicks of high quality and livability, a marked increase in the annual lay of pullets and a bigger profit for owners.

For complete list of Accredited Breeders and Hatcheries, write to E. C. HOGSETT, Sec'y, 1406 South Park Avenue, Pomona

INVITATION TO PLANNING MEET RECEIVED HERE

An invitation has been received by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce to send delegates to the second annual California City Plan conference, to be held under the joint auspices of the California Real Estate association and the California League of Municipalities, in the Hotel Oakland, Oakland, March 4 and 5, George Raymer, secretary, said today.

Dr. Carol Aronovitch, city planning consultant, of Santa Ana and Alhambra, will speak Friday afternoon, March 4, on the subject, "Extended Eminent Domain in Street Openings: Building Set-Back Lines."

The invitation points out the benefits accruing to Alameda county from the first annual conference, held in Los Angeles, last year, and suggests that the coming conference will present new ideas and a more comprehensive survey of the needs of California communities based upon the results obtained at the first conference.

Fred A. Reed, one of the officers of the International Planning conference, wrote that he feels confident these conferences will result in a city plan for every incorporated city in California within the next two years, which eventually will present California as one of the most modernly developed municipal centers of the nation.

Cigaret Blamed For Burning of Window Awning

The careless tossing of a lighted cigarette from the second floor of the city hall, is believed to have been responsible for the burning of an awning from a south window in the office of E. L. Vegely, city clerk, Saturday afternoon. The fire quickly was extinguished by Officer H. Hershey.

ORANGE

ORANGE, Feb. 28.—Local friends of Miss Betty Billman, formerly of Tustin and Santa Ana, will be surprised to hear of her marriage to O. P. Schlatter, of Los Angeles. The couple were married on January 29 at 8 o'clock in the evening. After March 1 they will be home to their friends at 2839 Alessandro street, Los Angeles.

The Union Concrete Pipe company expects to have its plant at the end of South Shafter street and Santiago creek in running order again next week. This concern suffered considerable damage by creek floods during the recent storm.

Officials and workmen at the Silverado mines were able to make their way out last week after having been marooned on account of washouts since the storm. Some property loss as well as great loss to the roads is reported.

Miss Annette Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lewis, of North Glassell street, underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday morning at the Santa Ana hospital and is reported doing nicely.

Betty Ross Coleman is confined to her home because of illness.

The E. P. Roy family, of East Walnut avenue, is moving to Fullerton to live.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. De Longy were week-end visitors in Los Angeles.

Miss Katherine Oliver was a Los Angeles visitor today.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Feb. 28.—George Cook, of Los Angeles, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting in Capistrano.

Jack Congdon, who is attending the dental college at U. S. C., spent the week end at his father's home here.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cook and sons, Robert and Allan, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dukes in Alhambra. Mrs. Cook and the two boys plan to remain at the Dukes' home all this week.

Mrs. Ernsberger arrived last Monday from Los Angeles to stay with her daughter, Miss Iva Ernsberger, instructor at the local high school.

Roy Cook, who recently returned home after a serious throat operation, is again very ill. He is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cook, in Santa Ana.

David McDougal and his son and daughter, David and Alice, were in Capistrano on business Saturday.

Mrs. Mildred Pickard returned from Los Angeles Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robertson and daughter, Harriett, and Elmer Cook motored to Santa Ana Sunday.

The road to the hot springs has been opened for the first time since the storm.

Mrs. D. J. McHenry shopped in Santa Ana Wednesday.

Fred Ross, Santa Ana automobile salesman, was in Capistrano last Thursday.

Colds Ended overnight

There's a way to end colds so quick and efficient that we paid $1,000,000 for it. That way is HILL'S. It stops colds in 24 hours, checks fever, opens the bowels, then tones the entire system. Millions employ it because it brings such prompt, complete results. Go try it now.

HILL'S Coughs-Bronchitis-Quinine. Be sure you get HILL'S, in the red box with portrait. At all drugists—30c.

Ate Toadstools For Mushrooms; Expected to Die

Claude Beckett, 415 French street, is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, in a critical condition, as the result of eating what he thought were mushrooms for dinner last night.

Physicians said he was suffering from "toadstool" poisoning and that there was little chance for him to recover. They said few persons survive the poison.

Beckett was taken to the hospital today. He became violently ill several hours after eating the supposed mushrooms.

THREE WIVES, ONE HUSBAND SEEK DIVORCES

Three wives and a husband are seeking freedom from domestic ties in a quartet of divorce actions, on file in superior court. Two charges of cruelty and two of desertion furnished basis for the complaints.

Maude Winder charged Herbert Winder with desertion, which also was the charge in a suit brought by Samuel Barron against Nellie Barron. Both plaintiffs were represented by Attorneys McFadden and Holden, of Anaheim. The Winders have a son, 7, and the Barrons a son, 8. The Winders were married in Scotland, in 1916, and separated in 1923. The Barrons were married in Long Beach, in 1917, and separated there in 1923.

Mercedes Cummings, plaintiff in a suit against Archie L. Cummings, alleges that her husband frequently cursed and struck her. She asks for "suitable" alimony. The couple married in Seal Beach, in 1922, and separated last August 24. Attorney Morris Cain represents the plaintiff.

Elvina R. Dayton, represented by Attorney Albert Launer, of Fullerton, also claimed that her husband, William A. Dayton, cursed and beat her. They were married in China, in 1921, and separated March 1, 1926. Mrs. Dayton demands $150 attorney fees and $20 costs.

Edward D. Rice has been ordered to pay his wife, Leora Rice, $70 per month temporary alimony, $100 attorney fees and $15 costs, pending trial of her divorce action before Judge James L. Allen.

ATTACK CASE IS CALLED IN COURT

The trial of Edward Driscoll, Huntington Beach oil worker, charged with a statutory offense, promised today to be conducted largely under feminine observation.

When Driscoll's case was called in Superior Judge Homer G. Ames' court, the courtroom was well filled, chiefly by women. Of the first 12 veniremen called into the jury box for examination, eight were women.

Driscoll is accused of a criminal attack on Jean Brunswick, 20-year-old Santa Ana divorcee, and the girl was expected to be the star witness against him, together with another girl and several men. Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett was in charge of the prosecution, faced by his predecessor, D. G. Wettlin, who was associated today with Attorney O. A. Jacobs in Driscoll's defense. It was Wettlin's first appearance on the defense side of a criminal case in five years.

J. Chapin Dies In Norwalk Hospital

John Chapin, resident of the Greenville district, who was sent to the Norwalk hospital several weeks ago, by the county, died Saturday, according to word received here today by Coroner Charles D. Brown. Chapin's body was removed to a Los Angeles funeral parlor and probably will be sent east for burial, it was said. The man is said to have several relatives in eastern states, from whom funeral instructions are expected.

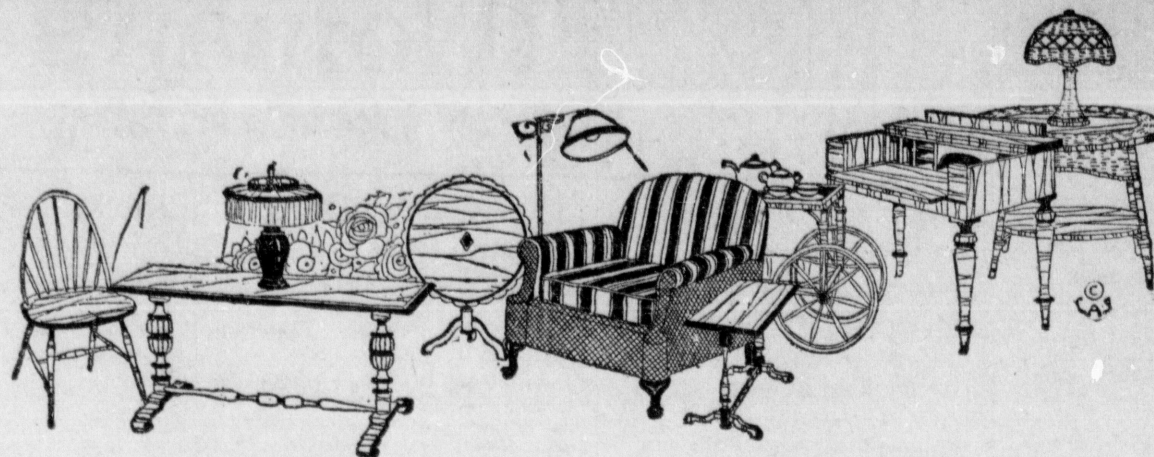

The quota of the United States National Guard calls for 174,969 men.

Here is Your Answer to the Home Furnishing Problem—

“What’s New?”

“What are the new things in home-furnishings?”

There's a question that confronts everyone who seeks to properly furnish a new home or re-new an old one.

A problem that is happily solved, however, if you go to an establishment that makes it a business to find out what is new and what is correct and to stock it.

Such a store is Chandler's.

If you are seeking new ideas, you owe it to yourself to come to the Chandler store—now—and inspect the many new pieces.

The showing includes new Berkey & Gay dining and bedroom furniture, Sligh bedroom furniture, together with odd living room pieces from Karpen and other well-known manufacturers.

New ideas, to be sure, but all following correct designs that will give years and years of useful and proud possession.

Furniture of recognized merit that offers the greatest returns for the money you spend. Come and see.

Make it a point, also, to keep in touch with this store's window displays. It will prove a liberal education in correct home furnishing.

WALLACE ASKS COUNTY SCHOOL INFORMATION

Made the subject of more or less comment in educational circles is a communication, received by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, of Newport Beach, asking for detailed information as to the number of pupils attending the Santa Ana high school from each elementary school district that goes to make up the high school district.

Wallace also wants to know in what manner the $64,742.88, charged to capital equipment of the Santa Ana high school, and the $38,472.24, charged under the same item to the Santa Ana junior college, was raised.

Although Superintendent Mitchell was not prepared to comment upon the queries contained in the Wallace letter, he thought the "capital equipment" has reference to the new gymnasium building, which is used by both the high school and the junior college. This building, Mitchell explained, was financed by direct taxation.

In some quarters it was intimated that the Wallace communication might be a forerunner to a movement on the part of the school districts in the beach area to create a high school district of their own, following the example set by Brea and Olinda.

YOUTH KILLED WITH 'UNLOADED' PISTOL

SELMA, Calif., Feb. 28.—Lisle Snyder, 15, is dead and his pal, Cecil Shannon, who unintentionally shot Snyder, while the pair was playing with "unloaded" revolvers, is grief-stricken by the tragedy.

Constable H. B. Staley, of Selma, informed this morning that Snyder had died in the local sanitarium during the night, said that he was almost certain that Shannon would not be arrested, as the shooting was "accidental."

Staley questioned Shannon after the shooting, yesterday, and learned that the two boys were ignorant of a bullet in Shannon's revolver.

The boys spent Saturday night together and arose early yesterday to go hunting. As they dressed, they playfully pointed their revolvers at each other and Shannon accidentally pulled the trigger of his gun. Snyder fell, fatally injured, with a wound in his abdomen.

MORE DOUGH FOR DOUGH-BOYS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Our doughboys must have more eats, economy or no economy. President Coolidge is asking congress to appropriate $4,000,000 in order to increase the daily food allowance from 40 cents to 50.5.

Surgical Supply Company to Open New Store Here

The West Coast Surgical Supply company will open for business tomorrow in its new store at 310 North Sycamore street. The company formerly was located in the First National bank building, where a wholesale business was conducted with physicians and hospitals.

Dale G. Deckert, who is owner of the store, declares that the company will carry a complete line of sickroom supplies.

An orthopedic department will be maintained, with expert fitters in charge to properly fit trusses, abdominal supporters, elastic hosiery, arch supporters and other surgical appliances.

Mrs. Muriel Bosh will be in charge of the women's department. The company is strictly an Orange county institution.

CHURCHES ARE PREPARING FOR LENT SERVICES

The Lenten season will begin Wednesday, March 2, and religious ceremonies, in observance of the 40 days of the passion of Jesus Christ, will be held in various churches, including the Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran.

Ash Wednesday begins the season of sackcloth and ashes and in Catholic churches the ceremony of strewing ashes upon the heads of the faithful is accompanied by the solemn symbolic words gathered in substance from Genesis, "Remember, man, that thou art dust and into dust thou shalt return."

In St. Joseph's church, mass and the distribution of the ashes will take place at 8:15 a. m. There will be services in the evening at 7:30 p. m.

At the close of the 40 days of fasting, abstinence and prayer, the Christian looks forward with joy to the coming of Easter, which, this year, comes on April 17.

In preparation for the coming of Lent, the Forty Hours devotion, in honor of Christ's 40 hours of agony, is being held in St. Joseph's church, concluding tomorrow morning. Lenten services will be held in this church every Wednesday and Friday evenings, beginning at 7:30, with sermons and stations of the cross.

Pair Returned From Oakland

Jack L. Fenton, 36, and Mrs. Lydia E. Grate, 34, both of Huntington Beach, who were arrested in Oakland on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, were returned to the Orange county jail Saturday night by Deputy Sheriffs McKague and Neuschwanger.

FLAPPERS ARE ANALYZED BY MRS. BRUFFETT

"The flapper needs to be taught, rather than criticized," Mrs. Beasie Mae Randall Bruffett, former pastor of the Santa Ana Four Square church, declared in a sermon on "Flappers," delivered yesterday in Kansas City.

According to Mrs. Bruffett, the modern flapper is a flapper because she doesn't know how to be anything else and believes that petting parties, wild automobile rides and drinking from a hip flask are the only ways to obtain pleasure, because she hasn't tried any other way.

Mrs. Bruffett, known throughout the country as the flapper evangelist, and her husband opened a five-day revival service in the Missouri city yesterday.

"The modern young woman simply needs to become interested in church activities and she will find that the hollow pleasures in vogue now will not interest her any longer," Mrs. Bruffett declared. "What the girl of today needs is friendly advice from her parents, rather than criticism. Every home should have a Bible and every young woman and girl should read that great Book."

Mrs. Bruffett and her husband, both former followers of Albee Semple McPherson, are on a world tour. They left Santa Ana about two months ago.

Express Business Growth Is Shown

Reflecting the commercial growth of Santa Ana is a communication received by J. T. Carter, agent of the American Railway Express company, from the division offices in San Francisco, expressing satisfaction with the volume of business handled here last year, which, it is pointed out, exceeded that of 1925 by an appreciable margin. In addition to stating that the Santa Ana office has been placed in a higher class, the communication carried official advice of automatic raises in salary for all employees, including the agent.

18 CHICKENS ARE TAKEN BY THIEVES

Eighteen chickens were stolen from the place of H. Ellison, Garden Grove, Saturday night. Thieves entered the property from the rear of the lot and took the chickens from their roosts, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office.

Ed McClellan, deputy sheriff, investigated and learned that three men committed the theft. Their footprints were marked plainly in the soft earth around the chicken yard, it was said.

Two Osterlopp hens, valued at $10 each, were stolen Saturday night from the place of Mrs. M. Wells, First and Holt streets, Tustin, according to a report filed today with officers.

Arrives Home In Time to Glimpse Thieves Leaving

A. L. Snyder, Garden Grove, returned to his home from Santa Ana, Saturday night, just in time to see two men dash from his back porch across a field. They were Mexicans, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office by Snyder.

Snyder entered the house and found that it had been ransacked. A small ring, of little value, was all that was reported missing.

Descriptions of the men were given the sheriff's officers and Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, is investigating.

ADDRESS FEATURES BIBLE CLASS MEET

"Making a Community Christian" was the subject of an address, Sunday morning, by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, before the Men's Community Bible class. Mr. Porter is the class teacher.

Approximately 175 members of the class were present, yesterday, according to W. B. Martin, class president.

The Rev. Mr. Porter stressed the fact that the community should work and feel as an individual and said that it was up to the individual to establish himself as a Christian man and, in that way, influence the community.

Kenneth Workman, soloist, sang several selections. He was accompanied by Mrs. Briggs.

According to one of the wives of Mohammed, "He would mend his clothes and cobble his shoes. He used to help me in my household duties, but what he did oftenest was to sew."

Aged Couple, Suffering Acutely from Rheumatism, Neuritis and Indigestion, Find Quick and Permanent Relief in Tanlac and Praise It Highly

"From the day I was fortunate enough to line up with Tanlac," says Mr. Emil Langhans, ex-cavalryman and retired customs official, "it has kept my health and strength up to highest standard."

Sitting in his comfortable home at 2219 107th Avenue, Oakland, Calif., Mr. Langhans told how Tanlac had rebuilt strength and vigor for himself and his charming wife. "Tanlac worked wonders for my wife," he said. "She had suffered from high blood pressure, neuritis and general run-down condition. Tanlac relieved her."

"I had sciatic rheumatism—suffered for five years with it—so that I could sleep but little, on account of the pain. Kidney trouble, indigestion and loss of appetite had reduced my strength to a low ebb. "Since taking Tanlac my health, as well as that of my wife, has been remarkable. Though I am retired, I could resume my old work any time. No rheumatism—nor kidney trouble—in past two years. I never miss an opportunity to praise Tanlac."

Old and young, from coast to coast, unite in praising this famous remedy of nature. Made of roots, herbs and herbs, according to the exclusive Tanlac formula, it is an amazing tonic medicine. All good druggists sell Tanlac. Get a bottle today! Over 40 million bottles sold.

Twentieth Anniversary

Sixteen Years Ago

On February 27th, 1911, before Southern California began its rapid growth, when William H. Taft was president of the United States and when San Pedro was an undeveloped seaport, the Southern Counties Gas Company was organized and commenced the distribution of artificial gas to approximately 3000 consumers.

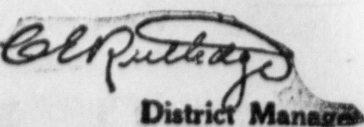

Then, the company had an invested capital of about $900,000, a handful of employees, cramped office quarters and only a few miles of pipe lines.

Today this public utility has approximately $20,000,000 invested in equipment and buildings and regularly employs more than 600 men and women, together with 300 construction workers. There are 28 gas offices and 2195 miles of transmission and distribution lines. The Southern Counties Gas Company operates in more than 70 communities and cities in five counties.

It is connected with all of the substantial gas producing oil fields from Huntington Beach to the newly developed Ventura fields. The fact that the company has maintained continuous gas service during these 16 years assures our 111,945 consumers of dependable Service with Courtesy.

WILL CONSIDER PREMIUM LIST FOR 1927 FAIR

Department heads of the Orange County Fair association will meet at the Garden Grove Inn at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, to consider the 1927 premium list, which is expected to be issued by May 1, according to J. R. Hunt, fair manager.

Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, chairman of the premium list committee, will submit changes and recommendations of the department heads and it is expected that all differences of opinion will have been adjusted within the next few weeks.

It already is known that certain departments, notably the agricultural and the individual display, will increase their lists. Several changes also have been suggested in the livestock division, Hunt said. The fact that there will be a two days' display of dogs, under the auspices of the American Kennel association, will necessitate a marked advance in the number of premiums offered in that department.

A special tent will be provided for the women's art, historical, educational and needlework divisions, Hunt added, giving far more room for these particular lines than ever before has been afforded. The automobile tent will be used exclusively for automobiles and automobile accessories. The tractor and farm implement displays will be housed in the industrial tent, according to present plans.

A special meeting of the fair executive board has been called by President H. A. Lake, to be held in Ketter's cafe, Santa Ana, Wednesday night. The fair executives will take up the recommendations made by the department heads at Tuesday night's meeting, in Garden Grove, and submit a report on them to the board of directors, at the meeting to be held March 15.

GREAT CHECKERS MATCH IN OFFING

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Running through their wit-sharpening exercises and eating lightly so as not to befog their cunning, 12 American masters of the humble game of checkers today prepared for an epochal two-week struggle with Britain's best.

It will be the first Anglo-American checkers clash since that engagement in 1905, when the Americans lost. Today, in the Hotel Alhambra, the effort to atone for the nation's deep humiliation will begin.

Each American will play each British representative four games, making a total of 576 games. Forty-eight hours daily, until March 12, strategy will meet strategy.

Among the dozen British players is James Ferrie, checkers champion of Scotland in 1924.

The Americans include Newell H. Banks, of Detroit, match champion of the United States, and Jesse B. Hanson, of Los Angeles.

J. H. Bruce, member of the British parliament, will act as referee.

IMPROVEMENT BODY TO MEET THURSDAY

The second annual meeting of the East Santa Ana Improvement association will be held in the Ebell clubhouse at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, it was announced today by J. H. Stout, secretary. Dinner will be served by women of the club.

It is expected that W. R. Hervey, executive vice president of the First National bank of Los Angeles, will be a speaker. Hervey is a member of the Santa Ana association and his attendance at the meeting is anticipated.

A program of entertainment is being arranged by a committee, consisting of W. A. Gerrard, Fred Mitchell and W. C. Cochems.

Boy Arrested On Traffic Charges

Alleged to have "cut in" on three different occasions and to have been without proper identification, Mata Garcia, 19, East Pasadena youth, was arrested last night by State Officers Hurd and Barnhill. He was lodged in the county jail. Garcia was arrested on the state highway, south of Tustin. Officers claim that he forced several machines off the pavement.

He probably will be given a hearing today, before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Missing Youth Is Sought by Police

An effort to locate Clayton Partwood, 16-year-old Fullerton youth, who is missing from his home, is being made by Fullerton police. Santa Ana officers were asked to join in the search today. Partwood is described as being five feet, five inches in height, of slender build, blue eyes and weighs 105 pounds. When last seen, he was wearing corduroy trousers and a light shirt.

About $60,000 in cash and negotiable inclosures, received annually in the dead letter office, goes into the exchequer of the office. Each successful claimant for advertised unclaimed letters is assessed 1 cent.

Presence of Mind Saves Girl from Death or Injury

Rare presence of mind in an emergency probably saved Lucille Tibbs, 8, from death or serious injury at 3 o'clock, Saturday night, at Fourth and Main streets, where she was run down by an automobile said to have been driven by Anthony C. Adams, 32, 831 South Ross street, according to a report filed with the city police.

With a remarkable display of bravery, the little girl clung to the bumper that struck her and avoided being thrown against the pavement. When the car was stopped, she got up, rubbed her hip and exclaimed that she was not hurt.

"It's a good thing that car had a bumper, though, or I wouldn't have been able to hang on to anything," she remarked to an officer, who ran up to take her to a hospital.

According to officers, Adams did not know he had struck the child, and it was not until he was called to that he applied the brakes and stopped the machine.

The child was taken to her home, at 413 North Garnsey street, apparently uninjured.

5 AUTOMOBILES ARE REPORTED STOLEN HERE

Five automobiles were reported stolen to Santa Ana police over the week-end. None of the cars had been recovered late today. Three automobiles, reported abandoned, were recovered by officers and are being held at the police station.

Paul Snowley, La Habra, reported the theft of his car from a place where it was parked on Birch street, between Fifth and Sixth streets. It was stolen last night.

An automobile owned by C. Y. Martin, 810 Minter street, was stolen from Garden Grove, Saturday afternoon, according to a report filed at the police station.

H. D. Hyde, Balboa, reported to officers Saturday night that his machine had been stolen from Bush street, between Fourth and Fifth streets.

A car owned by L. H. Babcock, 413-1-2 West Fourth street, was stolen Saturday night from a place where it was parked, almost in front of his residence, according to a report.

The fifth car stolen was that of G. Dominguez, Santa Ana, route No. 7, which was taken from French street between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Officer N. C. Nelson brought a machine to the police station early today. It was reported to have been abandoned on Sixth street, between Sycamore street and Broadway. It was registered to a Marie Wiener.

An abandoned machine, registered to John Lubrecht, 29 South Magnolia street, Long Beach, was found at Sixth and Broadway, Sunday, by Officer E. E. Perry.

Officer Harold Jaynes reported the finding of an abandoned car on Seventeenth street, near the Santa Ana river bridge, yesterday. It was brought to the police station.

A preview of pictures produced by artists in Laguna Beach will be held at the Y. hut on the high school campus Wednesday from 3 to 5 p. m., it was announced today by Mrs. Mary D. Robertson, president of the High School Parent-Teacher association.

Pointing out that the exhibit is to be made under the auspices of the association, Mrs. Robertson said that students, parents and anyone interested in art is invited to the preview.

Miss Floy Donaldson art teacher in the high school, will be present, and will deliver a short address on art. She also will emphasize some of the high points in the group of paintings presented for inspection.

Mrs. Robertson said that the exhibit had been arranged by the association for the benefit of Santa Ana residents and that no admission would be charged.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (adv.)

Jewelry and Cash Taken by Burglar

Miss M. Wright, 1205 North Fairview avenue, left home Saturday afternoon and was gone only 20 minutes, but when she returned she found that she had had an uninvited visitor, who made away with a small amount of jewelry and money, according to a report made to the police station. Entrance into the house was made through the front door which was left unlocked it was said. Two rings valued at $30 were stolen together with $6 in cash a brown leather bag and two pairs of silk hose.

5 FRANCISCAN NUNS, DRIVEN FROM MEXICO, IN SANTA ANA

Tales of Cruelty, Harking Back to War-Time Belgium, Related by Sisters

FLED IN TERROR OF THEIR LIVES

Religious Persecution Has Made Lots of Homeless Much Worse Than Death

The old Spanish conquistadors have been reincarnated in Mexico with a new fury of bigotry and there now is a reign of religious persecution below the border that would shame the most bloody of the sixteenth century adventures. Of this, Santa Ana had first-hand evidence today in the presence of five Mexican Franciscan nuns, refugees from the City of Mexico, flotsam blown northward on the tide of anti-Catholic hatred generated in official Mexico.

Fleeing in terror of their lives, the five intrepid sisters brought with them, out of Mexico, tales of studied cruelties that harked back to war-time Belgium; narratives that rivaled the worst in all the crimson history of religion.

Maiming of the down-trodden; preliminary atrocities performed upon those marked for slaughter, and torturing of priests have made the lots of homeless thousands worse than death, they declare. Hundreds, fortunate enough to have relatives in the United States, have made their way into this country. The rest must stay and face whatever fate has in store for them, conducting their worship in secret.

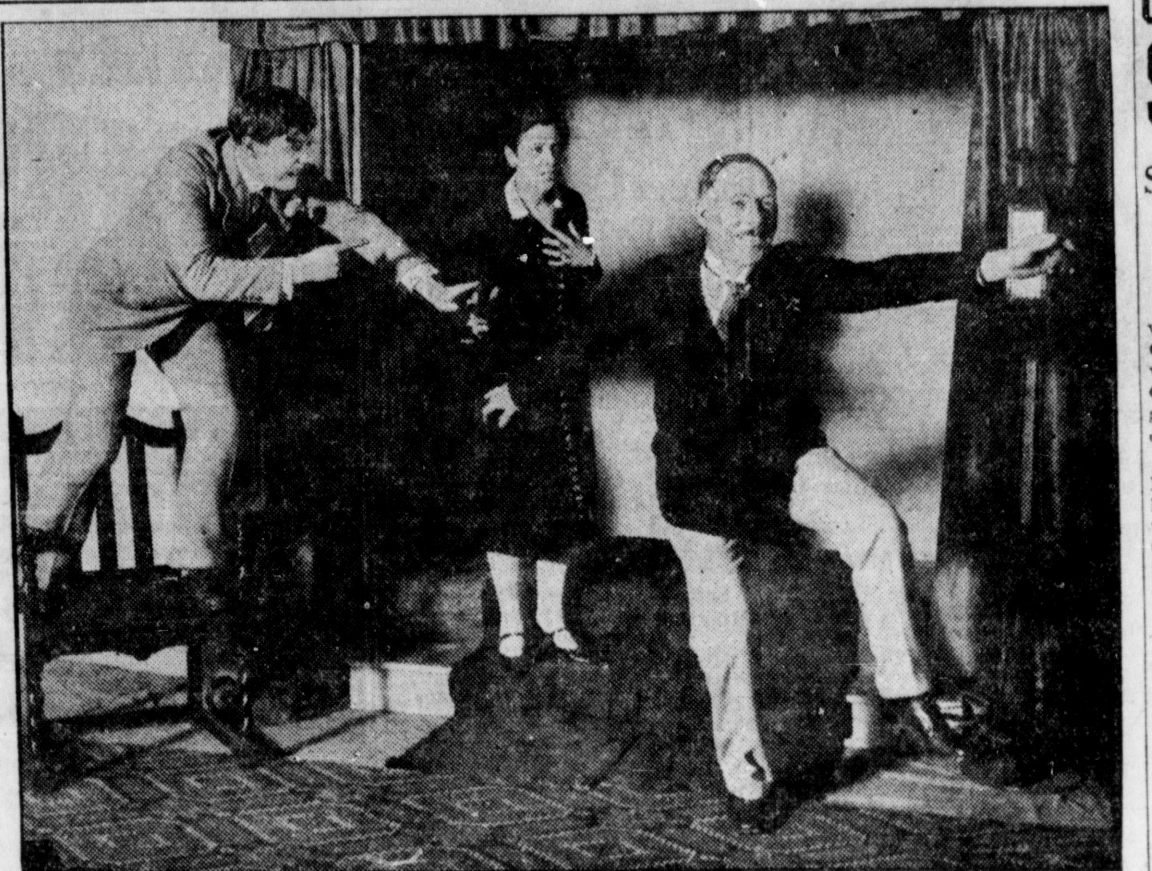

Sister Belen, the superior, and Sisters Emerenciana, Maria, Magdalena and Loreto are the five who have found haven in Santa Ana. They are living in a cottage belonging to St. Joseph's parish, at 730 Garfield street. The cottage furnishings were provided for them by the sisters of St. Joseph, in Orange.

Given 24 Hours Notice

"We were given 24 hours notice to vacate our homes. Our homes, furniture and belongings were confiscated and we were not permitted to wear our habits," said Sister Belen, who, with the other nuns, were teachers in a large Catholic college in the Mexican capital.

"Our people were cast adrift, homeless, in all parts of Mexico. Those whose relatives helped them to come to the United States are both happy to be safe and free and Julia Hyde, as "Mrs. Henry Simmons," Joseph Peterson (left), as "Chester Binney," and Harry Brackett (right), as "Henry Simmons," in the forth-coming production of "The Whole Town's Talking," by Santa Ana Community Players, in the Temple theater. The play will open Tuesday night, March 8, for four nights' run.

RELIEF BILLS WILL BE TAKEN UP BY SOCIETY

Listed among matters to be taken up at the next regular board meeting of the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange County is the proposed indorsement of two bills for the relief of crippled and physically handicapped children, one known as the "restoration act," and the other as the "education bill," sponsored by the California Society for Crippled Children. It was announced today by the officers of the association.

The "restoration act," known as assembly bill 185 and senate bill 632, deals primarily with physical restoration, while the "education act," known as assembly bill 479 and senate bill 630, pertains to the education of physically handicapped children.

According to advices received by Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, director of the Crippled Children's Relief as-

Production Will Open on Night of March 8 at Temple Theater

Is it any wonder "The Whole Town's Talking" when situations such as these occur in the season's second production of the Santa Ana Community Players? Just what the talk is about, may be found out when the initial performance is given in the Temple theater on Tuesday night, March 8, but, in the meantime, an idea may be gained from the actions of three of the principals, as shown in the accompanying picture.

Julia Hyde, as "Mrs. Henry Simmons," seems both amazed and embarrassed by the actions of her husband, "Henry Simmons," as played by Harry Brackett, dean of Community Players, incited by Joseph Peterson, as "Chester Binney." Peterson is another member who has scored success in various plays put on by the association.

Rehearsals for "The Whole Town's Talking" are of almost nightly occurrence at the Temple theater, with George Gerwing as director. There will be a break in the routine tomorrow night, however, as the theater will then be thrown open to friends and

MAN WITH 12 BANK ACCOUNTS HELD AS HOBO

Lorenz Fahl, 33, arrested in Huntington Beach on suspicion of vagrancy, was found to have savings accounts in 12 banks in California, Oregon and Washington, when searched today by beach police. It was learned here.

In addition to the bank books, showing deposits of several thousand dollars, Fahl had deeds to property in Vancouver, Wn., papers certifying the ownership of automobiles and mining stock in his possession, officers declared.

He was clothed in rags when arrested and was carrying a large pack. Officers found five savings banks full of money in the pack, along with travelers' checks, totaling more than $100. Fahl had more than $25 in nickels, dimes and pennies in one pocket, according to officers. He wore shoes, with worn soles more than two inches

Wholesales to Long Beach

"The business field of the company comprises practically all of the suburban territory adjacent to Los Angeles, with the exception of Pasadena, Glendale and Redondo. Of the above mentioned properties, during 1924, the Southern Counties Gas company sold to the city of Long Beach all of the gas distributing system, holders, equipment and real estate within the city limits of Long Beach, and is now wholesaling to that city large quantities of gas, which the municipality distributes."

COUNTIES GAS COMPANY SHOWS STEADY GROWTH

Sixteenth Anniversary Is Noted by Utilities Concern Serving Santa Ana

Yesterday marked the 16th anniversary of the Southern Counties Gas company, an organization which virtually made its start in Orange county by acquisition of gas plants and organizations conducting business in the county.

Organized on Feb. 27, 1911, by Ferdinand R. Bain, the company has increased its invested capital in the 16 years from $900,000 to $20,000,000.

According to C. E. Rutledge, district manager for the company here, the organization started with a handful of employees, cramped office quarters and only a few miles of pipe line. There were approximately 3000 scattered consumers being served with artificial gas.

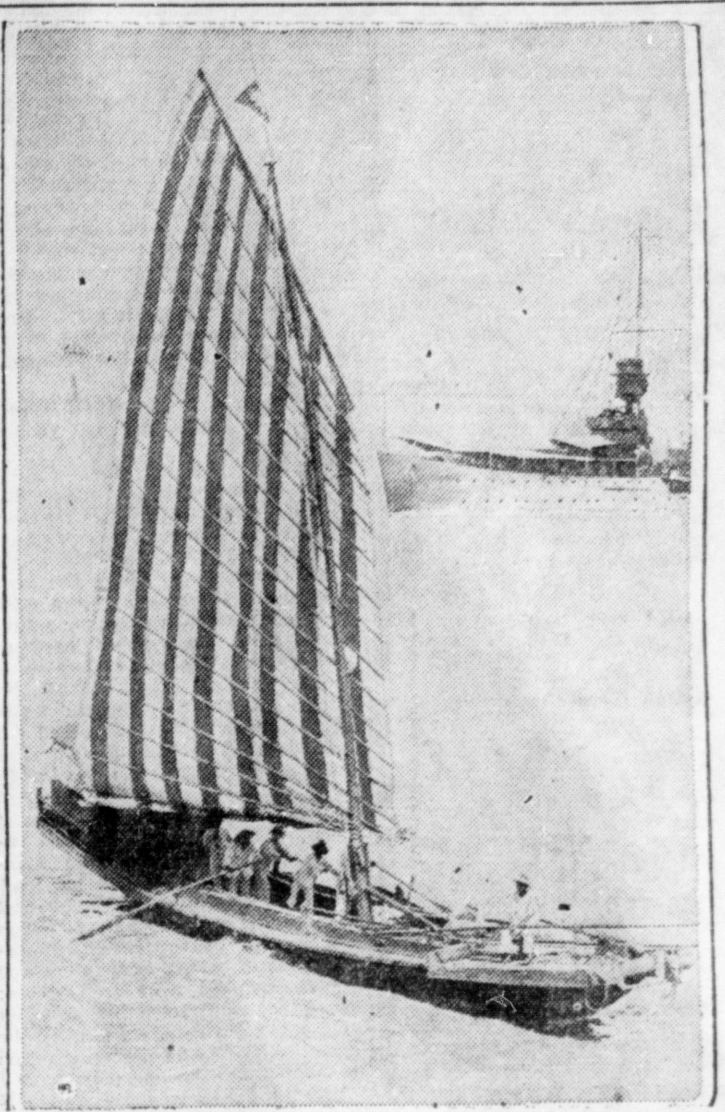

Taps Oil Fields

The manager said the company now employs 600 men and women with a construction crew of 300 workers. There are now 28 local gas offices in five counties. A vast network of 2195 miles of transmission, distribution and lateral mains and pipe lines connect the 111,945 consumers with all of the substantial gas producing oil fields in Southern California, including Huntington Beach, Santa Fe, Signal Hill, Montebello, Rosecranz, Placentia, Brea Canyon, Richfield, Inglewood and the newly-developed Ventura fields.

Recounting some of the historical growth of the company, Rutledge said:

"The property of the Piedmont Gas company, Covina Gas company, and Orange County Gas company, and the gas plants and distributing systems of the Southern California Edison company at Santa Ana and Whittier. In 1916, the company acquired the properties of the Long Beach Consolidated Gas company and the gas properties of the Southern California Edison company, located in the Santa Monica bay region, and also the Pomona district. In 1919, the company added the properties of the Ontario-Union Gas company, also the system of the Edison company at Santa Barbara and Montecito, and the gas properties located in Ventura county. In 1922, the company annexed the municipal gas distributing system of the city of Newport Beach, thus supplying 56 cities and towns in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Ventura, Santa Barbara and Orange counties."

WHERE EAST MEETS WEST; JUNK AND MODERN WARSHIP

This striking picture, taken in the bay at Shanghai might be entitled, "When east meets west." The queer-shaped Chinese sailing junk, with its colorful sail and of the same type used in the days of Confucius, is shown passing one of the most modern British battleships on guard to protect British interests.

STREET DEPARTMENT EXTENDS SERVICE TO INCLUDE PICKUP OF TREE TRIMMINGS IN CITY

Extension of the service of the street department to include the picking up of tree trimmings at private homes was announced today by Stanley Goode, street commissioner on the city council, and Clyde Jenkins, city engineer and street superintendent.

It also was announced that if householders, having trash accumulations in excess of a cubic yard, will notify the office of the engineer in the city hall, special service will be given. The pickup will be made within 24 hours after notice is given, the street superintendent said.

Street Commissioner Goode pointed out that the capacity of the pick-up trucks used is one cubic yard and that hereafter trash piles in excess of the load will be passed up on the regular pickup schedule.

"This ruling is necessary to maintain a regular schedule in the picking up of trash," the commissioner said, in pointing out that the wagon halts to remove a pile containing trash in excess of a load, other residents on the route must suffer delay in getting rid of their accumulations.

Emphasis also was made on the point that tree trimmings and trash should not be placed in the gutter. The deposit should be made on park space, Goode said.

Segregation Is Urged

The commissioner stressed the necessity of householders and business men grouping their accumulations into three classes. Paper and combustible trash should be segregated from bottles, tin cans and junk, while garbage should be free of everything except refuse from the kitchen.

Paper, trash and garbage collections in the city is costing a considerable amount, statistics of collections for the last six months of 1926 reveal.

For the six-month period, 407 tons of paper were collected, at an average cost of $5.59 a ton. The average daily pickup was two and one-half loads. This collection was principally in the business district.

Trash and junk collections from the residential districts averaged two and one-half loads a day, the total being 321 tons picked up at an average cost of $4.15 per ton.

Santa Ana residents use a large quantity of canned goods, according to indications, for the large average pickup was on this class of waste. The average was four loads a day, the total for the six months being 428 tons and the average cost $3.78 per ton.

The garbage pickup averaged 6.4 tons a day, for which the cost was $4.72 a ton. The city, however, sells the garbage at $1.25 a ton, leaving a net pickup cost of $3.48 a ton.

The average daily pickup in the business district for garbage was 245 and for the city, 1943, with an average pickup of 3404 for the entire city on garbage trash and cans.

Picking up Every 9 Persons

Picking up on a basis of 21,000 population, there was a pickup for every nine persons. In other words, only one person in nine provides a garbage can. The ratio in larger cities is approximately one garbage can for ever seven persons.

For the information of the general public, the schedule for pickups in various parts of the city is presented as follows:

REALTY BOARD OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED AT ANNUAL BALL

Harry Culver, President of Los Angeles Organization, Addresses Meeting

ADVANCEMENT OF COUNTY PREDICTED

Possibility of Tremendous Population in Community Stressed by Speaker

New officers of the Santa Ana Realty board were officiating today, following their formal induction into office at the annual banquet and ball of the organization, held Saturday night, at St. Ann's Inn.

The oath of office was administered by Freeman H. Bloodwood to Carl Mock, president; Louis W. Briggs, John Knox, N. E. Wray, vice presidents, and Stanley E. Goode, secretary. H. J. Selway, treasurer, is ill and was not present.

Obligations came as a conclusion to a dinner and program. The chairman orchestra played during service of the meal and the program numbers interspersed courses. The rich soprano voice of Mrs. H. Madlener was heard in a group of three songs, "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance), "Sequedilla," from the opera of Carmen (Bizet), and "April, My April" (Milligan), the singer giving the third number in response to the longed applause. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Blue Bird Trio Sings

The popular Blue Bird trio, of Santa Ana, which broadcasts weekly from KFON, entertained with a group of lively numbers.

"Santa Ana, My Home Town," was sung by its composer, Lyle (Andy) Anderson. The number was repeated, by request, at conclusion of an address by Harry Culver, president of the Los Angeles Realty board and president, last year, of the California Real Estate association. E. M. Sundquist was accompanist for the singer.

In his address, Culver commented on conditions and situations in Santa Ana and Orange county that pressed continued advancement of the community. He pointed out the development of Newport harbor, by residents of that community, as a factor that will have great influence on progress of the county. He anticipated further improvement by funds appropriated by the county, the state legislature and the national congress.

Always a forceful and entertaining speaker, Culver held the close attention of his auditors as he developed his points. He warned against sluggishness on the part of residents in their civic activities because of prosperity and too great contentment with their conditions and surroundings.

Culver stressed the possibility of tremendous population in Orange county and Southern California and impressed on realtors and others the value of always maintaining an optimistic viewpoint.

"Long, sorrowful faces get no one anywhere," he commented.

"Keep Eyes on Tomorrow"

"Keep your feet on the ground and your eyes on tomorrow, for you have here one of the most beautiful and promising cities in the Southland. You have here opportunities and conditions of the

Goodyear's New Balloon Tire

The new tire shown above is the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread, scientifically re-designed for balloon tire use. The first advantages of this new tread are traction and resistance to skidding. The sharp-edged, diamond shaped blocks are placed in a semi-flat design so that they not only grip the road, but they retain their usefulness longer than any non-skid tread ever before tried.

The second advantage is long, slow, even tread wear. And with these virtues of traction, non-skid and long wear, this new tread is perfectly quiet and does not produce the vibration of many non-skid designs.

We have this new tire now in the 29x4.40 size for Fords and Chevrolets.

Pioneer Medic Prefers Women With Red Heads

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 28.—The red-headed woman is more dependable than her blond and brunette sisters, according to Dr. C. L. Holland, of Fairmount, W. Va., who learned about women during 26 years of treating their ailments.

Here to attend the convention of the American College of Physicians, Dr. Holland gave an analysis of feminine types based on the color of their hair. Here is a report of his findings:

Blond—Clinging vine type; very affectionate, maybe; deeply emotional, perhaps, sentimental, not assertive; passive; spoony.

Brunet—Aggressive, assertive; snappy eyes; alert; peppy.

Redhead—Fiery emotion and stamina; vivacious, dependable; temperamental; full of pep, initiative and vigor; acute sense of humor; in short, everything her blond and brunette sisters are and a little bit more.

sociation, the restoration act empowers the state department of public welfare to locate, enumerate and ascertain the conditions and circumstances of physically handicapped persons under the age of 21 years; conduct local public diagnostic clinics for crippled children; furnish surgical, medical, hospital or other special treatment, as well as appliances, maintenance of transportation, when necessary; contract with local professional persons, corporations, hospitals, institutions or homes for services to such physically handicapped persons; to pay for such services out of funds in the department to assist in carrying out the provisions of the act.

The proposal carries an appropriation of $52,500 for each year of the biennium.

The education act empowers the governing board of any school district to provide educational opportunities suitable to physically handicapped children, including the blind, the partially blind, the deaf, the hard of hearing and the crippled; co-operate with other school districts in this type of work as well as with the state division of civilian rehabilitation; arrange for special classes or home teachers to instruct such children; record the average daily attendance of such handicapped children for the proper distribution of expense as provided by law; provide for counsel and guidance in social welfare and vocational matters; pay for the transportation for those unable to walk to school; determine the excess cost of educating handicapped pupils and report same to the state superintendent of public instruction and the county board of supervisors; levy the required amount of taxes to pay for the county's half of the excess cost of training such children in the public schools.

The proposed measure also authorizes the state to set standards for special instruction through the state department of education; direct the work through the state superintendent of public instruction; apportion the state school fund so that the state shall pay one-half of the excess cost of training handicapped pupils.

It is clearly stated in the bill that the excess cost is not to exceed $200 per pupil in any school year, one-half of which is to be paid by the county and one-half by the state. The local school district pays the same amount as it does for normal pupils.

The measure carries an administrative appropriation of $75,000 for each year of the biennium.

said at what they left behind them. At Laredo, Tex., we held a reunion with 200 nun refugees, who have been scattered to various communities where philanthropic societies and individuals are caring for them.

"Masses often are said by the deposed priests in private homes during hours best calculated for secrecy. A service may be conducted at 2 a. m.

"The mother superior of the Franciscan order refused to leave her country and her sisters. Now, in civilian clothing, she goes from place to place to look after their welfare.

"In one orphanage there were 200 children and when the superior was ordered to leave, while they were at supper, she asked what she should do with the little ones.

"Turn them into the street," was the unfeeling command. But charitable people, despite their poverty took the orphans and the sister into their homes.

"The priests are suffering martyrdom. A recent letter from a reliable source declares that a young man's tongue was cut out because he shouted, 'Long Live Christ, the King.' The letter describes other outrages, notable at San Angel, where the skin was torn from the heads and fingers of several young members of a society before they were shot to death.

Priests, this letter tells, were taken to a cemetery, shot and buried secretly. Inclosed with the letter were some photographs of massacre victims, that of Prof. Jose Valencia Gallardo, showing a bloody cheek, where his teeth were knocked out.

"No nuns have been tortured or killed, so far as I know," concluded Sister Belen.

kind that make easterners want to sell their homes and come here to live and there is no legitimate reason why this city should not continue its population growth."

J. C. Wallace, past president of the Santa Ana Realty board, officiated as toastmaster.

Appointment of Steve Barnson, of San Diego, as California real estate commissioner, was approved by the meeting and, at the instance of E. A. White, the secretary was directed to forward congratulations of the board to the appointee.

Grover Russell, of Whittier, vice president for this district of the California Real Estate association, and M. J. Haig, president of the board in Whittier, were guests, the men being accompanied by their wives.

AT THE THEATERS

Bebe Daniels and Douglas Gilmore in a scene from "A Kiss in a Taxi," current attraction at the Yost Broadway theater.

Francis X. Bushman Jr. and Joan Crawford in a scene from "The Understanding Heart" picture now showing at the West Coast-Walker theater.

WEST COAST-WALKER

The part of Monica in "The Understanding Heart" will make Joan Crawford one of the foremost leading women in pictures.

This is the statement of Jack Conway, who directed this production now playing at the West Coast-Walker theater, and when it is remembered that Conway made a like observation concerning William Haines when that player was making "Brown of Harvard," it bears more than ordinary weight.

"Miss Crawford has all the qualities necessary for screen success," declares Conway, "and more, for she has a definite, electric personality that she manages to project on the screen with no apparent effort. As Monica I believe she gives a performance that will be numbered among the best ten of the year." Francis X. Bushman Jr. plays opposite Miss Crawford as Tony, the young forest ranger.

In addition is offered Fanchon and Marco's "Idea," featuring such renowned vaudeville artists as the prima donna of Mexico, Senorita Chiro, the beautiful Spanish singer who has astounded the entire country by singing four notes higher than any other woman in the world.

Accompanying her is Jose Mercada, golden-voiced Spanish tenor who sings El Toreador from Carmen and other Spanish selections; Doreen Wilde, a pretty and talented little miss is well received with her many novelty dance numbers; Will Cowan, nephew of Scotty Weston the internationally known tap dancer, nearly stops the show with his dances; and Leon Vavara, a comedian, artist and pianist. Vavara recently completed a contract in the east where he is credited for playing on most of the larger circuits and being starred in the New York musical comedies.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Very Frenchy, this "Kiss in a Taxi" at the Yost Broadway. It was safer to make it French anyway—because as a waitress, the unlikable Ginette, Bebe Daniels lacks the amour propre of her kind in America, where a waitress who gets fired, is quite efficiently fired.

Ginette is fired 10 times a day and won't go. Her wear and tear on the glassware is ruinous. Bebe has a glorious time being Ginette, whom all the boys want to kiss, and get pelted with glassware for their pains.

Chester Conklin has a peach of a role as the secretary of the art association who "keeps both the books and his purity." Indeed a good many of the husband's alibi plans are frustrated through Chester's insistence on keeping his purity unstained.

Clarence Badger has directed a picture that never once drags. Bebe Daniels has endless opportunities for her versatile talents. There isn't any moral—even a righteous guardian gets shamefully hoodwinked. But Bebe looks so lovely in the chic gowns furnished her by the conspiring wife that a little deceit one way or the other is especially good.

Clyde and Marian Nelson did some mighty good juggling. They are followed by Ridge and Harriss who carried the audience from opera to jazz. Ridge was a tenor with "Blossom Time" and Harriss has been over the Orpheum circuit four times. The third act "The Nifty Three," a combination of versatile artists who sing, dance and joke in a way that the audience thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Burt is a petite little miss who wears some very nifty wardrobe, while Callahan and Shean are two versatile comedians of the slapstick variety.—Reviewer.

A Loaf of Bread With a Pound of Coffee

We are using this method to convince 250,000 housewives this week that our 10c loaf of bread is equal to any sold in the city for 14c.

For one week, beginning Monday, February 28th, every customer buying a pound of any brand of coffee will receive a coupon good for a loaf of Piggly Wiggly Bread. If you buy two pounds of coffee two coupons will be given. Coupons will be redeemed at any Piggly Wiggly store on any day following the day you purchase the coffee.

REASON: On account of the tremendous amount of bread necessary to supply Piggly Wiggly stores on an ordinary business day it would be impossible to bake enough bread to redeem all of these coupons during any one day. Bread coupons accepted in exchange for a loaf of Piggly Wiggly Bread on any day following day you buy the coffee.

Are We Radical?

We are termed Radical grocers. We are Radical when it is a question of healthfulness, sanitation or cleanliness in our stores. We are also Radical in taking advantage of every economy enabling us to supply food stuffs to our customers at the lowest possible prices.

Where the middleman performs no service, we cut him out. Much of our fresh food stuffs are delivered by the growers to our warehouse, there re-assorted and sent by Piggly Wiggly trucks to our stores.

No middlemen to help boost the price to you. Our aim is ONE PROFIT MERCHANDISE.

Extensive Health Service Department Protects Employees and Customers Alike

Several months ago Piggly Wiggly inaugurated a health department for the purpose of giving its customers the greatest protection possible in the matter of handling food. Piggly Wiggly stores have always been known for their cleanliness and now to further the interests of the food buying public all employees are examined regularly by licensed physicians. Through the operation of this service customers of Piggly Wiggly stores are assured that their food is being handled by men whose physical condition is rigidly safeguarded.

Employees are benefited as well through the Piggly Wiggly health service. Many times through examination employees are advised of corrective measures which avoid more serious later developments. This information pleases the men; they are glad of the opportunities thus given by their company. When given a perfect bill of health by the examining physician employees are happy with the knowledge that they are physically fit. It is a source of much pride among Piggly Wiggly men to know they are in good health. It's a sense of security that inspires them to greater personal ambitions and more pleasant service to their customers.

When a man is found to be unfit for work in a Piggly Wiggly store, he is not discouraged as some might think. On the contrary, he is glad to know that he should seek employment where the handling of food is unnecessary.

On the whole, Piggly Wiggly's inauguration of a Health Service Department has been a big success; well received by the public and enthusiastically supported by the entire organization.

In pioneering the health movement Piggly Wiggly has awakened the possibility of securing legislation to enforce a similar system in all food handling establishments. The following appears as an extract from "The Commercial Bulletin" a journal of the local grocery trade:

"Consider Examination of All Food Handlers Proposed Health Inspection of Restaurant Help May Apply to Grocery Clerks"

Physical examination for all handlers of foodstuffs in Los Angeles is now being given consideration by city authorities and some action may be forthcoming along this line, though nothing definite has yet been done.

Steps of this nature have been taken in several eastern cities and agitation to this end has been fairly general all over the country. Last week the Chamber of Commerce recommended to the City Council that an ordinance requiring physical fitness of all food handlers be enacted. While this is directed primarily to those employed in restaurants and similar institutions, it is presumed that grocery store operators would necessarily be included. Naturally the enactment of such a law would entail the securing of a permit based on physical fitness before being allowed to engage in these businesses.

The matter is now before the several health bodies of the city government for recommendation and an open hearing may be held.

Piggly Wiggly Credited With Making Step Destined to Raise Entire Plane of Modern Food Distribution

The management has received many complimentary letters from various organizations interested in public welfare. Among them the following letter from the Los Angeles County Board of Health:

December 2, 1925.

"Mr. A. C. Jones, Pres. Piggly Wiggly Western States Co., 761 Terminal St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Sir:

I desire to congratulate you in being the first chain store in this part of the country to install a health service for your employees and your stores. The absolute elimination of all persons who might infect food stuffs has very great public health influence. Naturally, many persons do not know that they are so afflicted. The examination as to fitness is therefore beneficial not only to the public but to the individual.

You are performing a real service in placing great emphasis on sanitation and health in your stores, and we will co-operate to the fullest of our ability throughout Los Angeles County in our Health Centers.

I am sure the public appreciates and will support a movement of this kind.

Yours very truly, (Signed) J. L. POMEROY, M.D., County Health Officer.

And this letter from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union:

February 19, 1927

"Mr. A. C. Jones, President, Piggly Wiggly Western States Co., Terminal Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Sir:

During the January 20th session of the Los Angeles Federation of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the assemblage voiced its approval of your business policy in connection with smoking in the stores as stated through the press. We wish to commend you on the stand you have taken for your employees. We know that this step commands respect for your organization from every one of our three thousand members.

The installation of your health service department is another point which we regard as a forward step in advancing and modernizing the handling of food. This move stamps your organization as a leader in a cause worth while.

Respectfully yours, (Signed) ANNIE MCKEAN WHITE, Pres.

WOULD COMPILE WASHINGTON DATA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Compilation of a complete history of the life of George Washington, to be approved by recognized historical authorities, has been decided as the first step toward the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the birth of America's first president, in the capital city, in 1932.

This was determined by the George Washington Bicentennial commission at a meeting here. The plan, made public by William Tyler Page, clerk of the house and secretary of the commission, contemplates a history divided into three sections as follows:

Reference list of books on the life of Washington.
Complete history of the years of his life, 1732-1799.
Geographical history designed to associate Washington's name more closely with various localities and undertakings.

Each of the sections would be approved by representatives of American historical societies at a meeting to be arranged later.
Page said the plan was submitted by Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart, of Harvard, and that letter would be mailed to publishers in the United States, Canada, England, and Australia, requesting lists of books on both Washington, and the United States for the years 1732 to 1799, inclusive.

Upon completion of the geographical history, Page anticipates that the commission will authorize a standard plaque to mark the various places visited by Washington. The commission took the position he said, that, in preparing for the celebration, an authoritative history would be the best foundation and that it was hoped the history ultimately would be recognized as the basis for future study and reference work in all schools and universities.

Red is the coolest color for summer wear, since it absorbs less of the rays of the sun than other shades. White is next and black is worst. For winter clothing dark colors are preferable.

Mothers, Do This--

When the children cough, rub Musterole on their throats and chests. No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief.

As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frost-bitten feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

OUR SURPLUS ATTRACTIVE TO BRITISH EMPIRE

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Thousands of British holders of the $15,000,000 worth of state bonds defaulted for from 55 to 85 years by Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and the two Carolinas have found a means for relieving the Coolidge administration of its $383,000,000 budget surplus.

A concerted campaign to secure reimbursement for these bonds was revealed in a letter written to members of the United States senate and house by the Corporation of Foreign Bondholders—an organization of British holders of repudiated securities.

The letter says: "Let the states, or the American people as whole, at a time when they have an enormous budget surplus, which seems the source of positive embarrassment to the government, make a sacrifice which is trifling when compared with the sacrifice the bondholders in this country are making, discharging their obligations so Europeans can refer to the American people in terms of admiration and respect."

"If the estimated figure is correct, the American budget surplus of $383,000,000 would alone more than redeem these bonds with all accrued interest." The holders of the Southern states' bonds organized some time ago under an act of parliament. The members also are holders of repudiated Turkish and Russian bonds. It is estimated that the original loans of $15,000,000 with their accrued interest now total approximately $75,000,000.

The British holders deny the argument that the loan was raised during the Civil war to carry on the struggle against the union, but cite proof that they are ordinary commercial obligations, some being repudiated even before the Civil war. The letter says: "To the people of Great Britain, who always have met their obligations in spirit and letter, the record of the United States appears astounding."

A hamadryad, or king cobra, from New Guinea, has been added to the zoological garden in London. It can strike to a height of six or seven feet and inject 20 drops of venom, two of which cause death.

An air mail pilot recently dropped a flare upon a farmer's barn, burning the structure. He landed by the light of the burning building and helped the farmer to rescue the cattle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad has applied to the interstate commerce commission to abandon 10 miles of its line from Perris to Elsinore Junction, Riverside county, California.

FIND GOLD UNDER PLATFORM OF DEPOT

OAKLAND, Feb. 28.—Workmen tearing down the old Southern Pacific station here discovered $2000 in gold coin beneath the station flooring. Owen Leonard, foreman for Dolan brothers, the wreckers, found the treasure, and turned it over to his employer, Eugene Dolan. Dolan said the most recent of the coins was minted in 1886, and surmised that someone had hidden the gold more than 40 years ago, intending to return for it.

School Books In Chicago Held to Be Pro-British

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Claiming that three history books used in Chicago public schools are "pro-British and dangerous to American patriotism," a demand has been made that the texts be banned, in a report sent to Mayor Dever and the board of education by the American Historical society.

Criticism was directed against "A History of the United States," by William Fiske Gordy; "Our United States," by William Backus Guiteau, and "The Silent Reader," fourth series, by Lewis and Rowland.

"These histories have been recently revised in a spirit of contemptuous hostility toward heroes of the Revolution and other founders and defenders of our nation," the report said. "The texts are not only altered but omit many vital characters, events and ideals hitherto held sacred in American history."

The pine-tree shilling, originating in 1652 and replacing wampum as a medium of exchange, was the first silver coinage in North America.

SIMPLE LIFE IS LIKED BEST BY NEW EMPEROR

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—Extreme simplicity marks the daily life of the new mikado and this may not be credited altogether to the fact that the royal family is in deepest mourning, for simplicity has been characteristic of Hirohito from his boyhood days.

Barring public functions and ceremonies, which are still carried out with the most rigid attention to the customs that are the outgrowth of centuries, the private life of the present reigning family is simple in the extreme. The present routine is much the same as in Hirohito's regent days. He rose at 6:30 in the morning and going up, in due course, to the family altar, worshiped the spirit of the first ancestor, who personified the God of universe, and of all others in the line of descent.

After this devotion, he read the newspapers with his princess consort until breakfast, paying special attention to foreign telegrams and news relating to social questions. As to meals, he took them with his wife, the breakfast consisting of light and modest foreign dishes, the luncheon of simple Japanese cuisine and dinner of an unpretentious menu.

Soon after breakfast, he went to the work of the day, attending to the affairs of the state, and the rest of the day, except the noon hour, he was occupied similarly until dinner time. For a few hours after dinner there followed a pleasant family gathering, in which the little Princess Teru-no-miya formed the center of joy-making of her fond young parents.

It was only when the cares of state were lighter that he allowed himself the relaxation of outdoor sports, in which case he played lawn tennis.

Hirohito is a diligent and a serious man. There will be hearty and honest merriment in the home, but never stupid extravagance as long as their present majesties reign.

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

Just Arrived! Now on Display Sensations of the New York Show The New Ambassador and Cavalier

They're here! New Nash style-designs of such distinctive beauty and arresting originality that they literally dominated all other offerings at the New York Automobile Show—the Ambassador and the Cavalier.

Utterly new and different, these sensational developments are destined to establish an entirely new vogue in body design.

Today they are Nash designs. A year from today they will be the world's most widely imitated enclosed body creations.

Though essentially European in their lines and contours, they are cars of compelling individuality and distinction.

The Ambassador is furnished on the Advanced Six chassis, the Cavalier on the Special Six chassis, and like all other Nash models, both are powered by the great 7-bearing crankshaft motor—the ultra-modern type.

You are cordially invited to visit our show-rooms and view these great sensations of the New York Show.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: James J. Hill

Sketches By Kroesen
Synopsis By Braucher

The hardest undertaking in his life, to use Hill's own words, was the building of the stone-arch bridge between Minneapolis and St. Paul. The bridge is built on a curve. When begun in 1892 it was listed by the public with the Cascade tunnel as one of "Jim Hill's follies." But time always vindicated Hill's judgment.

The years from 1882 to 1901 saw the Great Northern expanding with a number of branch lines in the west.

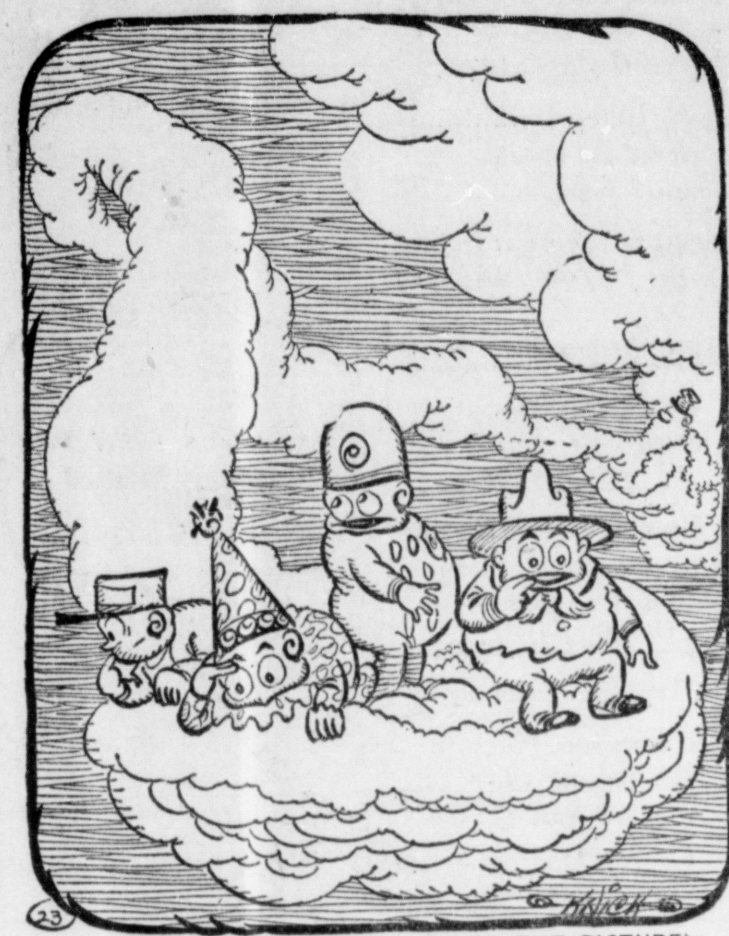

Chicago and the markets of the great middle-west became the goal. Hill pored over maps for the best gateway to this vast rich territory.

He put his finger on the Burlington railroad. With J. P. Morgan, then representing the Northern Pacific, he decided the road must be bought. But there was the rising figure of E. H. Harriman, controlling the Union Pacific, to contend with. Harriman was a foe of no mean steel. He wanted the Burlington, too. Battle loomed.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

They sailed all night, and then at dawn, they found the old Smoke Man was gone. Then Scouty shouted, "There he is, just fading out of sight." So all the Tinties watched him fade, and quite a thrilling sight it made. The Tinties promptly wondered, what would be their plight.

Said Coppy, "We'll just sail around, and maybe drift down to the ground. As long as all this other smoke stays with us, we're all right. The only trouble is, with me, that I'm as hungry as can be. I wish that we would land some place so I could get a bite."

Then quiet settled over the crowd, till someone shouted, right out loud "Oh, look! Our sail of smoke is acting very queer. It seems it's waving to and fro. Perhaps it too, is going to go, and if it does, we'll have no way of sailing on, I fear."

The smoke sail waved in the breeze and then with quite apparent ease, it started floating through the air, and could not be seen. Wee Coppy said, "I told you so. I knew that sail was bound to go. I think the Smoke Man leaving us was really rather mean."

And then the smoke on which they rode began to sink down with the load, and let the Tinties tumble to the center of the thing. "Ho, ho," said Clowny, "bless my soul. Our smoke is shaped just like a bowl. I'm glad because I rather feel much safer in this thing."

At first they all seemed rather dazed, but soon climbed to the edge and gazed "ut into open space so they could see what was around. "Oh, look, we're starting now to drop," said Clowny. "Maybe when we stop, we'll be but out of the air again, and down on solid ground."

The Tinties find a new land in the next story.

Queer Quirks of
- NATURE -

BIG BUTTONWOOD

BY ARTHUR N. PACK
President American Nature Assn.

About four miles west of Lancaster, Pa., on a little farm, stands a massive buttonwood or sycamore tree, generally conceded to be the largest tree native to Pennsylvania.

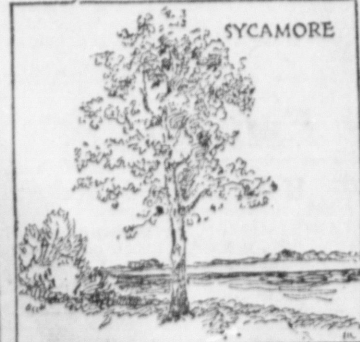

At 18 inches above the ground the tree has a circumference of 27 feet and 6 inches, and at 5 feet above the ground its circumference is over 23 feet. The tree is 102 feet high and has an east to west branch spread of 113 feet, and a north to south spread of 123 feet.

This giant among trees has branches as large and larger than an ordinary tree, three of these branches being 70, 72 and 84 feet long, respectively. Go out and measure a seemingly large tree near your home and compare the measurements with those statistics to gain some idea of the size of Pennsylvania's largest tree.

Aside from this mammoth specimen the buttonwood (also called buttonball, sycamore and plane tree) is an interesting study in its more usual form. It stands out conspicuously among its associates because of its variously colored leaves. Its leaves are simple, broadly ovate, about 4 to 10 inches across, and with 3 to 5 lobes; they are bright green, above, but are pale green and woolly below.

The bark on the old trunks is rather thick, dark brown, and peels off in broad scales. On young stems and the upper part of larger trunks it peels off in thin scales, exposing the white, greenish and yellowish inner bark.

The buttonwood is found in wet and fertile soil particularly, and is common along streams and ponds, where its vari-colored bark, mirrored in calm waters, makes an unusually beautiful picture.

BEAUTY CHATS
EDNA KENT FORBES

YOUNG NAILS

Feed the nails and they'll stay young. Protect them and they won't grow hard and old and full of ridges. How? Well—

When you go to bed at night, you should rub your face full of cold cream to remove all the dirt collected since you last washed off the face powder and make-up if you use it. You can wash off the cream or wipe it off, just as you choose. The point is: that you should rub cold cream into the nails the last thing at night and that it is easy to do this if you happen to use cream on your face. All you have to do is to double your fingers under the hands while you rub on the cream, and then a little later, push back the cuticle, softened by the cream, so you have a nice smooth edge all around the nails.

Polish the nails every day with a soft chamois covered buffer. This stimulates the circulation of the blood, which is a good thing for the nails, it also smoothes down the surface of the nail, and helps do away with ridges. You can, of course, rub down these ridges with a fine emery stone, then spread cream over the places and polish and polish. But a far better way is to keep the nails nourished with cream, well polished, well cared for in every way.

Of course, that means well manicured, but we are not discussing manicures this time. A flesh building cream is better than a cleaning cream for the nails; some firms make special cuticle cream which they claim is highly nourishing. I don't think it matters much, the cream with vegetable oil is, of course, more nourishing than the one with mineral oil, but any sort of oil is better than none at all.

Protect the hands from too much water and never use a coarse cheap soap. The nails can be dried out as well as the skin. Eddy—It is natural that your hair would come out after such a serious illness. Keep on with the tonic and be sure to massage the scalp daily whether using tonic or not; a new growth of hair should be coming along all the time to replace the loose and dead hairs that are coming out. If this is not the case, consult a scalp specialist.

Polishing keeps the nails young

Lighting the eastern skies.
The world goes on despite
Our thoughts or dreams,
Still shine the stars at night.

Still flow the streams,
Nor will the blossoms care
Whether we mark them there.
Time on us each bestows
A stretch of years
But still unchanged it goes
By smiles or tears.
Not time's but ours to bear
The anguish of despair.
Each at his little post
The while he lives
Must strive to make the most Of what life gives.
Men pass, but these remain,
Hunger and thirst and pain.

THE WOMAN'S DAY

BY ALLENE SUMNER
Aha, discovery! All these years we have struggled along somehow not knowing the depth of our ignorance. I refer to the quaint old custom of sending flowers, if any. Most of us just drop into a florist shop and order roses or carnations or primroses or cyclamens according to our own taste and that of the recipient. But it's all wrong, girls, terribly wrong!

"Flowers must be chosen by the really careful gracious giver according to the house in which they are to appear," says an edict. "Bright flowers for dark homes, pastel-shaded flowers for light homes." And now this year 1927 does need some nice, fitting expression which hits the nail on the head like "so's your old man!" Oh, probably it's true, strictly speaking, just as it is true that $4000 Oriental rugs should be used rather than $35.50 Brussels ones. It's just the symbol of one more rule, one more complexity, that irritates me.

Fifteen dollars a year should cover our face bills, says someone or other. That means, that $15 should buy all the skin foods and cleansing creams and cold creams and rouge and powder and golden glint shampoos and mascara and eyebrow pencils and beading for the lashes and—well, maybe it should, but the one who so computed never dallied in the toilet goods aisle of our best stores. The names alone, to say nothing of the pink boxes with apple blossoms on 'em, and words that guarantee that if you use what's in the box you will have a skin pinker and whiter and silkier than the hawthorn buds of May, are enough to wreck a purse! We women aren't fooled. We know well that warm water, mild soap and a wash cloth will do as much for us as all the boxes and jars, but it's such fun to look at 'em and smell 'em!

Now they grant injunctions to prevent marriages. Simon Steenberg, ice plant proprietor who found his wife's love cooled as his cold storage poultry, asked an injunction to prevent his divorced wife from marrying one Jacob Scheffer. And we wager that instead of getting all riled up, the lady in question was secretly tickled that he cared enough to stop her!

Nagging Fraus
Do wives nag husbands more today than in the years ago? None less than George Bernard Shaw thinks they do. He says, "women now have time to nag husbands as they ought to be nagged." He points to small apartments with all modern conveniences and woman's resultant leisure as a reason why she has time today to be a really good nagger.

Orange County Cities To Have New Business Directory and City Guide BookDirectory Will Have Many
New Features and Will Be Distributed Free to Every Home and Business House

The Business Men's Directory, Service, Hill Building, Santa Ana, is preparing to publish for Orange County cities a Business Directory and City Guide Book, in which will be printed most everything a person will want to know about his city.

Separate directories of hotels, cafes, clubs, lodges and associations, city and county officials with office location, street guide, city maps, automobile road maps, air-mail route maps of the United States, mail schedule, street car, stage and train time tables, places of interest in the Southland and how to reach them, in fact everything of local information a person will look for daily will be found in this new Directory and Guide Book.

One of the special features of this book will be a numerical telephone directory, something new, which is seldom found in print, giving in order all the telephone numbers in this city. Instead of the name of the subscriber appearing ahead of the number, in this book the number starting at one and going through to the very last number will appear ahead of the name. This will make it possible for anyone to know who is calling when only a number has been left with instructions to "please call." It is a feature that will be appreciated.

The publication will contain a business directory, a tourist guide and a general information source all in one and promises to be a very valuable book of 250 pages of information.

Pictures of the city and various beauty spots will be another special feature.

The information will be carefully edited and logically arranged so as to afford easy access to any desired subject, the book will be substantially bound in a strong heavy two-color cover, and more than 15,000 copies will be distributed reaching every home and business house in the cities. It is planned to make this publication a yearly gift to the citizens of Orange County.

In order that the work of cataloging and compiling the directory may be completed in the least possible time, and so be absolutely up to the minute, solicitation is being made by telephone. Personal solicitation takes so much time that when complete information is secured it is not of date. This difficulty is being overcome by use of the telephone.—Adv.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Register Want Ads do not have to be placed under their proper classification. No exceptions.

Personal, Situation Wanted and Furniture for sale will not be taken over the phone.

The Register will not be responsible for more than one insertion of any Want Ad ordered for more than one time, unless only by republication. Absolutely no cash rebate allowed except at the discretion of publisher. Errors, which clearly lessen the value of the advertisement, will be corrected by republication, without extra charge, within FIVE days after insertion.

The Register will not be responsible for errors due to illegible copy.

All Want Ads must be in by 11 a. m. to insure proper publication in all regular editions.

BOX OFFICE REPLIES

The Register postoffice department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish answers to come to the office. Advertisers are furnished with identification cards which must be presented at the Register office. For the protection of our patrons, replies are not given except on presentation of box card.

No record is kept of the names and addresses of patrons using the Register postoffice, and therefore no information concerning them can be supplied.

A charge is made for the words "Box A234, care The Register."

GENERAL ROAD CONDITIONS

By Touring Department of National Automobile Club

The Arrowhead Trail between Barrow, Yermo, Baker and Las Vegas, Nevada, is repaired and in very good condition again. The Daguer bridge is still out and deep water is running in the Mojave river. Motorists must use Barrow bridge to reach north road into Yermo.

The Redwood Highway is now open as far north as Eureka for light traffic. The Pacific Highway is now open but it is very muddy and chains are necessary.

The Gillespie Dam on Old Spanish Trail route through Arizona is still closed on account of high water. The bridge at Wickburg is washed out but route is passable at this point.

The bridge on main road at Palm Springs is out at Whitewater Station, and all traffic is now taking detour via Garnet station.

The Idyllwild grade is badly washed out below Oak Cliff where the summer controls were located.
The Soboba bridges are out as well as the bridge between San Jacinto and Gilman's Hot Springs.
The bridges between Etna and Perris are impaired.

ALLEGEDLY RECOVERED

WABEERER

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 28.—Captured in an auto camp near here, where he had been recognized by two former acquaintances, Guy
Brannon, wanted in Monte Vista,
Colo., for the murder of Mrs. Mable Drake Chandler, was being held in the city jail today, awaiting the arrival of Colorado officers.

Brannon, using an assumed name, was taken into custody without difficulty, although he was preparing to leave the camp at the time in an automobile.

A companion, who had traveled with Brannon from Arizona, Tex., and police that the suspect had sold a revolver in that city, and communications with authorities there revealed that Brannon had disposed of both a revolver and a shotgun.

Brannon refused to comment on the murder of Mrs. Chandler, wife of a retired rancher, who was found shot through the heart near here.

PENNANT PREDICTIONS
Connie Mack isn't given to making predictions. He thinks before he speaks.

CONNIE MACK YEAR
The Athletics, after disappointing Connie last year, will cause him to be very careful about making any forecasts for 1927.

While Connie has had a good club for several years, it sadly lacked poise. In the case of the Athletics, lack of poise best can be explained by simply saying there were no veteran players on the club to steady it when in trouble.

In addition to lack of poise, psychology played a prominent part. Mack's club had been tailenders for so many years that the moment a long streak set in the players took it for granted the club was seeking its usual low level.

TRIO OF REAL STARS
Since the loss of the 1926 campaign, Connie Mack has added three veteran stars to his lineup, two from the American, one from the National. They are Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat.

While all three have passed the peak of the game and all are suffering from the same ailment, weak underpinning, it strikes me the trio will prove invaluable to the Mackmen this summer.

Ty Cobb, Zach Wheat and Eddie Collins can do one thing, hit just as well as they ever did. Connie Mack, therefore, has added three hitters who belong in the 350 class to his roster. Figure what an added punch that means.

Collins will supply poise to the infield that will be absorbed by the rest of the team. Cobb will supply a flaring spirit, one asset the Athletics have lacked. He will also add the well-known color to a team that has always been rather drab. Zach Wheat will add speed to the outfield, making for consistency.

Collins realizes he is no Cyrus of say, 1912, he will speed this year until he calls a halt. Cobb, who would like to have a year in 1927, more than in any of his career.

Collins can't win with Cobb and Wheat, then he will be a much discussed manager.

RUPPERT ADMITS CHANGE IN BABE'S CONTRACT PROBABLE; SEEKS AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—"There is likely to be some change made in the contract which we offered him," Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, said today in discussing the demand Babe Ruth made for a two-year contract at $100,000 a year.

BULLET THIRD WINS BAY OUTBOARD RACE

Dr. Fiske's New Motor Is Too Fast for 8 Rivals; No Foolin' Second

The Bullet Third, champion outboard motor boat of the Southern California coast and which recently won the championship races at San Diego upheld its prestige yesterday and "walked away" from a field of eight fast outboard motors on Newport bay. The Bullet Third was piloted by its owner Dr. Fiske, well known sportsman and boating enthusiast.

Dr. Fiske won all three heats of the race, making the fast time of 22:1-2 miles an hour. In the races at San Diego Fiske was only forced to travel slightly more than 15 miles an hour. Fiske surprised other boat owners yesterday when he appeared at the start of the race with a brand new motor on his boat. He had not been showing much speed in trials on the bay but with the new motor he simply ran away with the race.

Don Douglas, local canoe man? facturer, took second with his boat, No Foolin'. Douglas' boat was only capable of about 20 miles an hour. Jerry Bausher, of San Pedro took third money.

The Coff Drop entered by Smith brothers, Balboa hardware merchants, looked good in the first half of the race but swamped when it hit the wake of another boat after making the first turn.

POLYTES LOSE MALONEY WILL NOT TAKE BOUT IN CAGE FINALE WITH PAOLINO

Santa Ana high school's dreary basketball season was at an end today and varsity, as well as Class B and Class C players, checked in their suits and turned attentions to track, tennis, baseball and other spring activities.

Coach Bill Foot's Poly varsity suffered its sixth and last Coast Preparatory league reversal of the year Saturday afternoon, losing to San Diego high school, 39 to 14, in a contest at the San Diego Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

San Diego's victory was its first of the year and entitled the Hilltoppers to the somewhat doubtful privilege of sharing basement honors with the Santa Anans, who were absolutely at a loss to find the hoops on the small San Diego court. The Polytes were visibly handicapped by the limited size of the floor and played their poorest game of the season, making only three field goals.

The Hilltoppers gained an early advantage and left the floor at half-time with a 16 to 4 lead. Santa Ana was unable to pick up lost ground in the second period, the San Diegans holding a 2 to 1 lead.

Lory Hogue and Julius Borden made four points each. Charles Ehrhorn scored three. Twist two and Riley one. Coach Foot made numerous substitutions, utilizing every member of the squad that went south.

The lineup: Santa Ana (14) (30) San Diego Hogue (1) (12) Johnson Borden (1) (12) Johnson Ehrhorn (3) (12) Johnson Twist (2) (12) Johnson Riley (1) (12) Johnson Substitutions: Santa Ana—Jordan for Hogue, Jordan for Borden, Hunter for Jordan, Jordan for Twist, Grebe for Riley, Dungan for Grebe, San Diego—Raney for Johnson, West (2) for Cahn, Donohue for West.

Jimmy Delaney Fights for Life

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul light heavyweight boxer, was fighting here for his life today.

Attendees at St. Mary's hospital reported at 1230 p. m., today, that although Delaney's general condition was somewhat stronger, his respiration, pulse and temperature indicated no improvement.

Infection of his arm following a fight in Buffalo, N. Y., 10 days ago has necessitated two operations and a blood transfusion.

Physicians are pessimistic about his chances for recovery.

ALEXANDER PANTAGES WINS

TLUANA, Mex., Feb. 28.—Alexander Pantages, 2-year-old, owned by Alexander Pantages, theatrical magnate, won the Juvenile Stakes here yesterday. Proctor Hug was second and Henrietta Wildair third. Alexander Pantages was an outsider in the betting and paid $45 to win on each $2 mutual ticket. The Juvenile Stakes was the third major event of the winter racing season.

"That is a matter to be settled between us and I am sure that we will have no difficulty in reaching an agreement," Ruppert said. "It would be safe to bet that Ruth will be playing right field with the Yankees when the season opens," Ruppert said.

While he would not comment directly on the demand of the Babe, it was understood from his close friends that the Yankee owner thinks a salary of $100,000 a year for two years is beyond reason.

"I want it understood," Ruppert said, "that there is no hard feeling about this matter. I didn't get mad about that letter. It was a good letter—even if the Babe didn't write it. He's not mad and when he gets here this week we'll talk it over."

It was a bet around Broadway today that the Babe would get pretty close to what he wants if he does not get everything he demands.

Billy Kelly Will Go to West Point

MISSOULA, Mont., Feb. 28.—"Wild Bill" Kelly, former quarterback and captain of the University of Montana football team, has received an appointment to West Point, according to word received here from Washington. D. C. Kelly will undergo a physical examination here tomorrow.

MALONEY WILL NOT TAKE BOUT IN CAGE FINALE WITH PAOLINO

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Tex Rickard's plans to match Jim Maloney, Boston heavyweight, and Paolino, the Spanish strong boy, for another number of his eliminating tournaments on March 25, have met with an unexpected obstacle.

Dan Carroll, Maloney's manager, admitted to the writer that he would not consider a big indoor fight against any opponent, making it clear that he took that stand for business reasons only.

"I think Paolino would be a cinch for Maloney and so does Jim but we don't want to sacrifice any more money by fighting indoors," he said. "We think we played ball by accepting the Delaney match inside when we could have gotten twice as much in a ball park. We accepted that match to prove Maloney was serious in his ambition to become the champion and that he was not out for money alone."

Carroll and Rickard conferred Saturday but it was understood no definite terms were discussed. Rickard merely wanting to know if Maloney would accept the March 25 date.

Rickard has Maloney under contract to go through the eliminations but he intimated he wouldn't force him to accept a date that he didn't like.

"I'm going to see Carroll again this week," he said. "I haven't made any definite plans and will not have until the match between Jack Sharkey and Mike McTigue has been decided."

If Sharkey should decline another indoor match—and he no doubt will have the same objections that Maloney's manager has—Rickard will have to look for another opponent for Paolino. Mike McTigue, according to his manager, Jimmy Johnston, will take the match.

While the debut of Paolino was a thing of joy to the Spanish colony in New York, it did not have much effect on the elimination calculations.

BOWLING

Matches scheduled for Santa Ana bowling teams this week follow: Monday—Huntington Park Academy vs. Tienan Typewriter Co. at Santa Ana; Laguna Chocolates at Huntington Park. Wednesday—Livezey's vs. First National bank at Santa Ana; Old Six at Redondo Beach. Thursday—Flour Construction Co. at Venice. Friday—Rawack Candy Co. vs. Certified Motor Market at Santa Ana.

Business Men's League Tuesday—Schneider Pill Rollers vs. Certified Car Market; Chick Inn Five vs. Santa Ana Furniture Co. Thursday—Fullerton vs. Rose Rural Realtors; Jerome and Hendrie vs. Miles Shoe Co. Friday—Register Publishing Co. vs. West Coast-Walker theater.

Booster League Monday—Peerless Plating Co. vs. Calpet Gas. Wednesday—Kinslow Auto Parts vs. Orange County Pipe and Supply Co.; Frank's Toy Store vs. Excelsior Creamery No. 1. Thursday—Robertson Electric Co. vs. Excelsior Creamery No. 2. Friday—O. A. Haley Inc. vs. Santa Ana Realtors.

PRESIDENT'S CUP PLAY NEXT FOR COUNTRY CLUB GOLFERS

President's cup play will be the next major golfing attraction at the Santa Ana Country club and with the course, greatly benefited by recent rains, in splendid condition, more than a score of enthusiasts already are in serious "training" for the annual event.

Members are checking in their score cards to members of the handicap committee and adjusting their handicaps for the tournament which will be held the latter part of March and through the early part of April.

Two team matches are scheduled for club teams this week. Captain Ed Farnsworth's club being scheduled to complete its Inter-club league season, against Redlands Country club Wednesday. The women's team was carded to face the Long Beach club feminine players this afternoon at Long Beach.

Three women's teams have been organized and contests will be played soon at the local course. Team captains are Mrs. A. G. Plugg, Mrs. E. B. Van Meter and Mrs. A. Dean Collier.

Winners in ten ball sweepstakes tournament Saturday and Sunday were Ed Holmes and J. S. Warner in Class A and R. O. Winkler and J. L. Ainsworth in Class B. Holmes with an 81 took low gross in the first division while Winkler won with an 89 in Class B.

CHICAGO CUBS REACH ISLAND TRAINING CAMP

AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND, Feb. 28.—Manager Joe McCarthy has 39 members of the Chicago Cubs here today for the initial workout of the 1927 training season.

Included in the personnel of the party are 17 regulars and 13 rookies who left their transcontinental rattler at Los Angeles yesterday, then essayed the Wrigley Marathon course, by boat. Jimmy Burke, assistant manager was in charge of the players on the westward journey.

Absentees reported were Percy Lee Jones, southpaw pitcher; Clifford English, shortstop, and Pete Scott, outfielder. Jones is a reported holdout, asking that the salary ante be raised before he affixes his name to the dotted line, and English wants a portion of the purchase price offered the Toledo American association club for his services. According to McCarthy, Scott has returned his signed contract and will report in the near future.

Uniforms and lockers were assigned to the squad yesterday and all details completed so that the team will get two workouts daily. McCarthy advocates an abundance of work for his players, but believes that a pair of brisk sessions each day, serve to keep all on their toes better than one protracted workout.

At the opening of the season, it was decided that when an attempt would be made to pull the play, Conroy would pass his right hand over his forehead as a signal but as a signal to remove the perspiration.

Warhop cut loose a fast leave to third that struck the unsuspecting Conroy on the side of the head, bounding into left field and putting him down for the count.

As he recovered consciousness his first words were: "That signal is out until fall and cold weather returns."

For a delicious noonday lunch, Givens-Cannon, Fourth St. at Ross.

POLY FOURSOME VICTORIES AT ORANGE SHOW

Local Athletes Cover Mile In 3 Min. 40 1-5 Sec., Shattering Own Mark

In what was the hardest run, closest race of the relay carnival held at San Bernardino Saturday, Santa Ana high school's one entry took the main event, the Orange medley relay. Incidentally, the team set a new Orange Show mark of 3 minutes, 40 1-5 seconds, in the one mile feature, lowering last year's record, also set by Santa Ana, by a full three seconds.

Coach Roy Adkinson was enthusiastic in his praise of the performance of the four Santa Ana runners, all of whom won gold medals.

The carnival events showed both Glendale and Huntington Park on hand with strong relay contenders. Coach "Tex" Oliver of Santa Ana had sent but one team, taking the ground that most of his men are not yet hardened to meet the grueling competition of a big meet such as was staged by the Orange Show management. He was unwilling to sacrifice his athletes by entering them when they were unfit to compete or to enter his strongest runners in more than one event.

Race Order Reversed The medley, scheduled as the star event of a star relay meet, called for a half-mile, a quarter-mile and two 220-yard runners. Last year the event was run in this order. This year, arriving at the field, Santa Ana found that the order had been reversed.

Santa Ana's entries, in the order they ran, were: "Speedy" Fairchild, 220-yards; Terry Stephenson, 220-yards; Captain Harvey Bear, 440-yards; Harold Breeding, 550-yards.

The entire track was laid off in lanes, with the rule that the 220-yard men must keep to their lanes, while the quarter and half-mile runners were free to take the pole when it came their turn to carry the baton.

Eight teams entered. Fairchild got away to a fast start, ran a fine 220, passing three runners, and turning the stick in good shape to Stephenson, who rounded the turn at top speed, passed one opponent and came into the finish with the leading hand of three.

Bear Runs Fast 440 Captain Bear ran a stirring quarter, starting as third man in a group of three strong quarter-mile runners, and passing two. One of these was gone around by Bear before he completed his fast quarter with a superb pass to Breeding. Poly's crack distance runner.

Breeding loped into his long stride just behind Huntington Park's star half-mile. He held this position around the first turn and down the back stretch to the turn where he stepped out. Foot by foot he made his way around the leader. They came into the stretch the first time with positions reversed, the Santa Ana man in the lead by a stride. The runners remained in this position throughout the last quarter, the Huntington Park man close behind Breeding and a Pasadena runner on the heels of the Park man. And that is the way the race finished. Fullerton finished fourth.

The carnival ended with Glendale and Huntington Park tied for first place. On the toss-up the school cup was awarded to Huntington Park.

Huntington Beach placed in two events. It took second in the 80-yard 4-man novice event, and fourth in the 440-yard 4-man event.

Bears, Oregon to Clash for Crown

EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 28.—Basketball supremacy on the Pacific coast will be decided here next month, probably on March 10, 11 and 12, when the University of California and the University of Oregon clash in a play-off series.

That the championship conflict would be between California and Oregon was decided Saturday night when California won the championship for the southern half of the Coast conference by defeating Stanford, 29 to 19.

PHILHARMONIC IN EIGHTH YEAR OF EXISTENCE

The Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, which will come to Santa Ana for a concert Tuesday night, March 28, in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Junior chamber of commerce, is celebrating its eighth anniversary this year. For more than seven years this body of men has been playing together under the baton of Henry Rothwell, one of the celebrated conductors of this generation.

"If practice makes perfect," says Rothwell, "then we have an organization approaching perfection." "With a standard of musicians in the orchestra hardly excelled in any other body in the world and with seven years of constant rehearsal and constant performance, under one man, and that man admittedly one of the greatest in his mittedly one of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, deserves to be placed and ranked only with the very few American and European organizations of supreme importance," says Caroline E. Smith, manager of the orchestra.

Although the orchestra plays nearly 100 concerts every year, the most careful preparation and arduous rehearsal precedes every performance, to the end that perfection may be approximated in every work performed.

After returning from Philadelphia last summer, where he conducted the Philadelphia orchestra, Conductor Rothwell was even more enthusiastic than ever about his own organization.

"It is like a great organ, a perfect medium for the expression of musical thoughts and emotions. Our orchestra certainly is second to none."

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A leading periodical, widely circulated here in the capital, asks:

"Are we governed by liars?" That question cannot be answered by "yes" or "no" with any due regard for the proprieties in their entirety.

Certainly members of the cabinet and most of their important subordinates would deny, if they were asked point blank, that they were liars. Some of them might even be sore about it.

But the best one can do who must listen to them year in and year out is to classify them as fibbers. They don't tell nasty things like liars—they just tell white lies, whoppers and fibs.

And if you were to engage one of these officials in a frank, friendly, off-the-record conversation he would undoubtedly do much to justify the policy of prevarication which has infiltrated itself into our system of government.

Probably the present administration is no worse than the last or the one before. In fact, it may be more moral, for those now in power are very poor fibbers, and try as they will to do good for the public by kidding it, they become tripped up in these earnest efforts and sometimes it is all very embarrassing. Perhaps the next administration will be able to fib much more gracefully and plausibly.

Of course this beneficial practice of fibbing is most enthusiastically resorted to when an official gets in a tight place. In naming a few instances, no malice is intended, for every correspondent in Washington is reconciled to the situation, takes it as a matter of course and realizes that the best way to confirm the truth of anything here is to get someone to refuse to deny it.

The various explanations of our recent intervention in Nicaragua furnished one demonstration. Between the White House and the state department, a half dozen different reasons were given in rapid succession.

Rear Admiral Latimer got his equivocal ear in when he asserted:

SPECIAL MASS IS HELD FOR ANGLERS

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 28.—Isaac Walton might add another idyllic chapter to his "Compleat Angler" if he could fish some Sunday morning in Medina lake, near here, and then return through the woods to the fishermen's chapel and attend the special mass provided for those who spend their Sundays with rod and fly.

Services are at 10 o'clock so that the anglers can get in several hours of sport before the fish quit biting during the hot part of the day.

The chapel is built of native rock quarried out of the hill upon which it stands. It is large enough to accommodate 120 communicants. The building was sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, but was built with donations from Protestants as well as Catholics.

MONDAY NOON BIBLE CLASSES ARE HELD AT Y.

A series of Monday noon-day Bible study meetings for men, covering a period of six weeks, was held in today at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. with an unusually large attendance.

Last year, the Y. M. C. A. conducted, with considerable success, such a course, preceding Easter, the attendance at times taxing the capacity of the dining room. It is the plan this season, Secretary Ralph C. Smedley declared, to carry on the class until the week before Easter, when all the organizations will unite in a week of noonday services, as has been the custom in this city.

Men who are willing to spend an hour on Monday in a service of devotional Bible study are invited to the Y. M. C. A. building at 12 o'clock sharp. Luncheon will be served at 12:05, and the Bible study will begin at 12:30, the session closing at 12:55.

A simple luncheon will be served at the Y. M. C. A. at a cost of 35 cents a plate. In order that the necessary preparations may be made, Smedley explained, it is requested that men desiring to attend these meetings make their reservations beforehand at the Y. M. C. A. offices.

According to the Rev. Thomas J. Hunter, chairman of the religious work committee of the Y. M. C. A., the Monday noon meetings are for all men, regardless of their church connections, and the programs will be of a practical, helpful and non-controversial sort.

ed his men were confining themselves solely to protection of foreign lives and property and were not taking sides.

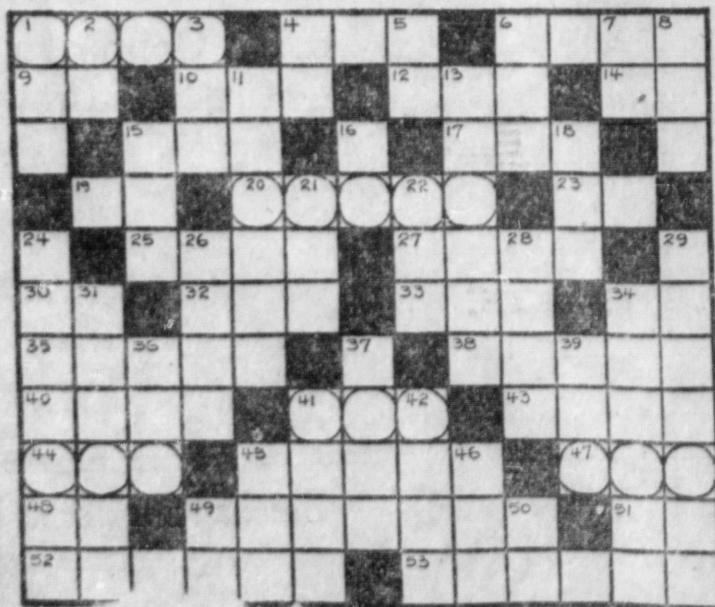

Secretary of State Kellogg denied that the state department had induced a press association to carry a story about Mexico, whereupon Paul Y. Anderson, a newspaperman, yelled "You're another!"

The White House help denied recently that a presidential message existed after the Coolidge disarmament message already had been distributed abroad.

President Coolidge himself is not to be accused, but the famous White House spokesman has become tangled up on several occasions. Such a leading journalistic trade journal as Editor and Publisher has often protested creation of issues of veracity between newspapermen and the spokesman.

WOMAN'S CLUB
WANTS FLOOD
WATER CONTROL

FULLERTON, Feb. 28.—A resolution has been adopted by the Fullerton Woman's club emphasizing that recent flood conditions in Fullerton have demonstrated the need of a forest conservation policy. The resolution, which was prepared by Mrs. Carrie Ford and Mrs. Marjorie Dyringer, will be sent to the Fullerton Kiwanis club, Fullerton Rotary club, the Elbell club and other persons interested in civic affairs, for sanction.

The resolution follows: "Whereas, trees and shrubs planted on hillsides or along washes, are essential to the conservation of property and of the water supply; and trees, growing in parks or along city streets, contribute greatly to a city's beauty, makes it attractive to homesekers and are therefore an important factor in its future growth;

"And whereas, recent flood conditions in Fullerton have demonstrated that such a conservation policy has not been effectively and consistently pursued in the past, with resulting property loss and the deplorable necessity for cutting down a number of our beautiful evergreens, thereby in a moment of emergency which might have been prevented, setting at naught the growth of years.

"Therefore, be it resolved that we, the Fullerton Woman's club, hereby earnestly urge the city officials to take such steps toward reforestation as shall permanently insure the citizens of Fullerton against flood destruction and the danger of a falling water supply, and to preserve those trees which now make our city a delightful place in which to live."

Head was secured to act as the organization's legal advisor as the result of a resolution, passed at the last meeting, held in the Placentia grammar school Tuesday evening of last week, when a contingent fund of approximately $400 was raised by assessment and the executive committee authorized to take legal steps to "ascertain" and "maintain" the rights of affected property owners.

Wildcat Well
At H. B. Seen As Big Producer

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 28.—The San Martinez Oil company's test well at Ninth and Ocean avenue in the eastern part of the townlot field at Huntington Beach has convinced most of the interested operators that a productive oil zone is in that area. Last week the San Martinez outfit completed a water shutoff test, which indicated that the water had been excluded from the well, and then drilled on ahead for more than 100 feet, coring oil sand practically all the way.

Bottom of the well, Saturday, was below 3270 feet, with oil sand from 3150 to that depth, according to reliable field reports. It is believed that the San Martinez could be practically certain of at least a 500-barrel well if it wished to finish it at the present depth.

Developments in the San Martinez project have stimulated activity in the eastern townlot area, which already was showing signs of considerable life. The Biltmore Petroleum company, whose lease adjoins the San Martinez Oil company, will spud in a well this week, and several other derricks are going up in the neighborhood.

The R. S. Gregory real estate agency handled a deal whereby J. F. Nixon, fruit buyer of Fullerton, acquired the 11-acre citrus grove situated on East North street, near the Anaheim city limits, owned by M. E. Wallace, of San Diego. The consideration was approximately $35,000. Nine acres of the grove are set to 13-year-old Valencia oranges and two acres are seven-year-old lemons.

Transactions totaling $25,000 were negotiated by Mrs. Zildo Oxarart, of the Stein-Straus Realty company, the sales being three homes. The fine country residence on East Chapman avenue, which was built for J. Charles Thamer, was sold to F. E. La Point, local contractor. The consideration was $15,000. The family has already moved to the home, which is of eight rooms, and is complete with all modern improvements. The house stands on a half acre of land.

Another home sold was that of John Fyler, which is located at the corner of Berkeley and East Chapman avenues. This home was purchased by Hugh Smith, superintendent for a large oil company, the purchase price for the home being $14,000. This home is one of the most attractive residences in Fullerton. It has five large rooms, a patio, fish ponds, many ornamental features and many flowers and pieces of shrubbery.

The third home is located at 327 West Malvern avenue, formerly owned by G. L. Lear. This home was purchased by Fred Willis, the consideration being $7250.

WORK ORDERED
STOPPED ON WELL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 28.—Trouble between city officials and the Fleet Oil company, which loomed Saturday when word was telephoned to the office of the city engineer to the effect that the Fleet company was setting a perforated casing, after having been granted a permit to set a water string.

According to reports received at the office of the city engineer, the oil company was endeavoring to set two strings of perforated casing and produce from two oil sands. Oil employees of other companies learned of the attempt, it was stated, and phoned police for assistance.

The oil men stated that if water broke into the well through the two sections of perforated casing, the entire western section of Huntington Beach would be ruined. The well where the attempt to set the perforated casing was alleged to have been made is located on lots 10 and 12 in block 521, according to the report received at the office of the city engineer.

Inspectors from the office of the city engineer's office stopped the work at the well, it was reported.

BUYERS PAY
$71,000 FOR
GROVE HOMES

FULLERTON, Feb. 28.—Real estate transactions involving four pieces of property in this city were closed Saturday, it was announced today by real estate dealers. The four transactions involved approximately $71,000 and included one 13-acre orange grove and three residences.

Nixon, fruit buyer of Fullerton, acquired the 11-acre citrus grove situated on East North street, near the Anaheim city limits, owned by M. E. Wallace, of San Diego. NOT LOST, JUST DELAYED

The Boulder dam project is just as much a vital question today as it was a week ago, before the U. S. senate shelved it for this session. The chances of ultimate success are not lessened. Rather, they are enhanced by the spectacular fight made in the senate by Senator Johnson, of California. The fight in the senate, ending with the loss of the cloture test, is the opening battle.

Dispatches from Washington state that the bill will be introduced at the next session of congress in the same form that it stands at the finish of the present session. The bill will have to go through the routine of committee hearings and reports, just as the present bill experienced successfully, in both house and senate.

The outlook for ultimate success is encouraging. The skirmish of the past two months has clarified the situation. The sponsors of the measure have uncovered the opposition, and have brought to their sides no small number of senators and congressmen whose attitude has been somewhat in doubt.

But to win, the fight must be kept up without a let-down. There are interests that, while on the surface making a large noise as though they favored it, will hamper the measure. The far-reaching arms of the power trust will not rest. The trust will take no breathing spell; neither should we. We have full confidence in the ability and integrity of those who have been leading the fight at Washington for us. They have the admiration and the gratitude of the state for the great fight they have waged during the short session against what from the first appeared hopeless conditions. Lack of time, together with archaic rules of the senate, brought about delay, but not defeat.

FOR CITY TRUSTEES

In looking forward to the city election, careful, conscientious, intelligent, independent, courageous thought should be given to the qualifications of the various candidates for City Trustees. No man or woman should vote for any candidate merely because he is a personal friend or a neighbor or a lodge or a church brother, or a good fellow. These in and of themselves are not qualifications for City Trustee, however kindly they may dispose us toward any candidate.

What are the qualifications for the office of City Trustee?
Without attempting to name them all, or to name them in the order of their importance, probably all can agree on these as essential:

Integrity, which is more than mere money honesty. Intelligence, which is something bigger and better than the ability to accumulate goods and chattels.

Initiative which can start something besides a fuss or a fire.

Fair-mindedness which cannot be biased by either prejudice or preference or personal equation.

Open-mindedness which cannot be closed by specious argument, either subjective or objective.

Long-mindedness or vision which can see at least dimly into the future and sense its relation to the present.

A willingness—nay, a desire to render public service without hope of reward, other than the approval of one's conscience and the preservation of one's self-respect.

Education, diplomacy, personality, business ability and experience, industry—all these are qualifications of more or less importance.

And progressiveness, enterprise, public spirit—without these qualifications no man can serve well as City Trustee of the city of Santa Ana.

Santa Ana is a growing city, and it is going to continue to grow; its people are a growing people, forward-looking, progressive, enterprising; and no man of a let-well-enough-alone type can properly represent them on the board of City Trustees.

VALUE OF BRUSH COVERING

Measurements of run-off water in San Dimas canyon, Los Angeles county, made during the recent storms add to the mountain of data that has been secured proving the great value of brush covering as a means of conserving water. The measurements were conducted by H. S. Gilman, president of the Angeles Forest Protective association. Gilman found that a rainfall of eleven inches, falling upon the 9600-acre area draining into the San Dimas wash, produced 8800 acre feet. Because of the brush covering, only 1100 acre feet ran off the area, and was measured as it entered the reservoir. This left 7700 acre feet on the watershed, a part of which has since come down into the reservoir and will continue to come down in well regulated flow, carrying no silt.

Here in Orange county, we have ample means of demonstrating the high value of brush covering. Recently, before the heavy flood, The Register called attention to the rush of water that came down the branch canyons of the Santiago that were swept over by the November fire, compared with the lack of flow from Silverado canyon. Supervisor Willard Smith and others who have watched the flow in the Santiago canyon for years have estimated that the brush covered canyons, like the Silverado, will take a three-inch rain without showing any run-off in the stream beds. From the burned-over area, any kind of rain, even a half-inch, produces a rush of water carrying silt.

There is plenty of data to support the claims of forestry engineers that, in all well covered mountain areas, approximately 88 per cent of the rainfall is absorbed, and when the cover is gone 92 per cent runs off.

PROFESSOR OF BOOKS

In his essay, "On Books," Emerson wrote: "Meaning the colleges, whilst they provide us with libraries, furnish no Professors of Books; and I think no chair is so much wanted."
Such a chair has not been established. Rollins

College, in Florida, now has made Edwin Osgood Grover Professor of Books. He offers three courses: the history of the book, literary personalities and a reading course in English and American literature.

Rollins is a small college. Hamilton Holt, its new president, believes that the purpose of a small college differs from that of a university and that it still has an important place in the expanding educational system. He believes in small, personal and leisurely schools.

"These boys and girls," he says, "do not come to us for the purpose of becoming historians, or scientists, or even creative artists in literature, but for the purpose of acquiring a cultural background that will fit them for the higher walks of life, and of developing within themselves resources that will provide compensating pleasures against the wear and tear of our present day commercial life."

Resources within themselves are blessings which our best go-getters, super-salesmen and too-early specialists lack. That there are schools and educators recognizing the importance of such resources and planning to develop them in students, is a good thing.

Great Wealth in Three Counties

San Bernardino Sun

It is quite natural that the great wealth of Los Angeles should overshadow other communities in discussion of Southern California, but other counties of the southland should never tire in their work of maintaining their own identity. Otherwise they would soon be lost entirely within the shadows of Los Angeles.

Here is an item of the wealth of a very important portion of Southern California that needs dissemination: the citrus fruit crop of the counties of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties now being harvested will net approximately $45,000,000. Very little of that money has as yet been received by the growers, but within a very few weeks it will be pouring in an ever increasing stream from the east to the three counties. The peak will be reached early this summer. It is the largest sum for which the citrus fruit crop of the three counties has ever been sold.

The Riverside Press has just completed a careful survey of the crop situation and according to its figures both San Bernardino and Orange counties will ship between 13,000 and 14,000 cars of citrus fruit this season. Riverside county will ship about $400 cars.

The returns in money to San Bernardino and Orange counties will approximate $17,000,000 for each county with $10,000,000 for Riverside.

And while the citrus fruit industry is the most important industry in the three counties, it is not by any means the only industry. Each of the three counties has vast resources of wealth in addition to that which the citrus fruit crop brings.

Should Adopt Generous Policy

Sacramento Bee

Professor Harold S. Quigley of the University of Minnesota is an authority on Chinese affairs, having formerly been a member of the faculty of a Peking university. He has written a pamphlet called "Chinese Politics and the Foreign Powers," which is being given general circulation by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Therein he pleads for a more and enlightened policy with regard to Chinese problems on the part of the great powers, finally concluding:

"The time has arrived for the powers to launch a liberal policy, to reject every suggestion of intervention, to recognize that a nation is being born. China will come her half of the way."

It would be a glorious thing if our own government could see the wisdom and the justice of such a policy; for the womb of the future is big with far-reaching events in the Far East.

Soviet Russia is busy there. She has surrendered all her concessions. She has cancelled all her debts. She is posing as the only friend of Chinese nationalism in the outside world. One of her representatives, Borodin, is a trusted adviser of the Nationalist or Cantonese government.

It is time for a gesture on the part of America that shall not be less comprehensive in its finality of sympathy for the aspirations of the Chinese people.

Diphtheria Cases

Reflection On Intelligence

By Rowland G. Freeman, M. D., New York City
Member Gorgas Memorial Institute

Diphtheria is a highly contagious disease which causes slight fever, a rather sore throat, swellings in the neck, and is generally associated with severe prostration.

A membrane grows in the throat, the nose, or the larynx, and this is the source of the poison that is diffused throughout the patient.

Diphtheria is carried by the sputum of an individual who has the disease. When such an individual talks, coughs, or sneezes, this infectious sputum is carried several feet in front, to the side, and somewhat behind the individual. Anyone who receives a particle of this sputum in his mouth is likely to contract the disease if he is not immune.

Diphtheria is a very serious disease which can usually be recognized by the physician, but is often recognized late because the physician is not called early.

About 65 per cent of children and 85 per cent of adults are susceptible to this disease yet susceptibility may be determined by a simple injection, the Schick test, which causes no general disturbance and is not associated with any danger.

People found susceptible by the Schick test may be usually completely immunized for life by three hypodermic injections of toxin antitoxin, at intervals of a week, which usually do not disturb the recipient at all.

Three months after these injections a Schick test is again used to ascertain if the person has been completely immunized. One-fifth of the cases require a second series of injections.

Through the use of these agents, antitoxin, the Schick test, and toxin antitoxin, both the number of cases and the deaths from diphtheria have been markedly reduced. If all children were immunized death from diphtheria would soon be eliminated.

All Dressed Up and No Place to Go

Living and Its Technique

San Diego Union

It is quite modern to realize that people require training in order to do even the most ordinary sort of work effectively; and that new realization is tending to remove all the old-fashioned stigma from the word "ordinary." We are getting away from the old classification of trades, industries, professions, businesses, as relatively "higher" or "lower." We are coming to realize that there are a great many things to be done in the world, and that it is well to have them done with decent competence. And we are beginning, most important of all, to realize that some of the most "ordinary" of occupations are actually the most necessary and the most exacting.

Mr. Cooper, who went from San Diego to become superintendent of education for the state, has just made an address wherein he describes the importance of knowing how to use leisure. This is one of the modern ideas. It is only quite recently that educators have begun to emphasize the importance of leisure occupations on individual and social conduct.

Only a short time ago, there were only two kinds of people—industrious people and sluggards. The industrious people were those who put in the greatest number of hours per day at remunerative labor. The sluggards were people who enjoyed too much leisure. Now the lines are not so sharply drawn. Leisure assumes the importance of a human right; and we are beginning to realize that the use of leisure demands an actual technique—that it is not a thing for any lazy fool to enjoy.

There is a growing group which preaches to us, in season and out of season, that so "ordinary" a career as that of wife and mother is really a most exacting and most important sort of a career. It is all very well to talk about the instincts upon which family life is based, or about the instincts of motherhood and the like; but the fact remains that there is a vast difference in the value and the usefulness of individual families, and this difference can be traced to the equipment of the individuals who compose the families. Formerly it was believed that when a man or a woman became "old enough" to marry, that was all there was to it—that nature would do the rest. It had always been so. It would always remain so. It has taken a long while to discover the perfectly obvious truth that the facts do not sustain this comforting view.

This promise of a new intelligence in the conduct of commonplace affairs perhaps explains why so many of the trades today are busily working up a "trade-consciousness." A plumber wants the world to know that he is a sanitary engineer. A dealer in real estate is proud of the title, "realtor." The farmer studies to be "scientific." And—despite the touches of charlatanism which necessarily creep in—this is good. It stimulates expertness, and we are living in a time when expertness is becoming generally necessary.

Phrases about the dignity of labor and the worth of common life never meant more than they do now. Strip all the correct language from the exhortations of the educators, and put the truth in a colloquial phrase: This is the golden age of the man who knows his onions.

Worth While Verse

And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, comes the perfect day;
Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays;
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur or see it glisten;
Every cloud feels a stir of might,
An instinct within it that reaches and towers,
And groping blindly above for light,
Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers;
The flush of life may well be seen
Thrilling back over hills and valleys;
The cowslip starts in meadows green,
The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,
And there's never a leaf nor a blade too mean
To be some happy creature's palace.

—James Russell Lowell: from "The Vision of Sir Launfal."

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edison R. Walte, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

J. HOBMAN, EDITOR OF THE LONDON (ENGLAND) WESTMINSTER GAZETTE, SAYS:

THAT it is a mistake for readers of newspapers to think that advertisements only represent so much revenue for the proprietors. Of course they do that as a very important primary function. But in so doing they put a journal beyond the need of hidden subsidies from political parties or business interests and in that way make for the cleanliness of journalism.

It is open for readers to see for themselves where the bulk of the revenue is derived from which enables newspaper proprietors to give them more value in newsprint and articles than is represented by the coin paid for the paper.

The function of bringing seller and buyer together is a valuable social amenity and extends the size of the world. As an editorial writer I marvel at the literary and artistic presentation of advertising matter in these days. This matter adds considerably to the attractiveness of every well displayed journal.

IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT THE WATCHWORD "TRUTH IN ADVERTISING" WILL BE MAINTAINED FOR THE CREDIT OF TRADE AND OF JOURNALISM. TRUTH IS BOTH THE RIGHT AND THE BEST POLICY.

The New York Prefers United

Editorial from New

From this time forward telegraphic news appearing in the Telegram will be furnished by the United Press, which, in our judgment and in that of hundreds of other publishers, is the greatest and most efficient worldwide news agency.

The membership in the Associated Press acquired with the purchase of this newspaper has been relinquished voluntarily.

Both agencies are independent, non-partisan and unequalled by any contemporaries in enterprise and efficiency. In the nature of their service to newspapers they are very similar. They are highly competitive. They differ chiefly in their form of organization.

The Associated Press is controlled by a board of directors. Choice of this board is in the hands of a restricted group of publishers who hold $150,000 worth of the company's bonds. Nominally a mutual organization, the A. P. is not truly so by reason of the fact that its 1200-odd members cast one vote each in the selection of directors, while the small group of bondholders cast 6000 votes.

The United Press deals in news as a commodity. It is operated for profit in the same degree that newspapers are operated for profit. It grants no franchises and is non-exclusive. Its services are available to any newspaper anywhere in the world. Unlike the Associated Press, whose major activity is confined to the United States, the United Press does an international business. It supplies its dispatches to newspapers in thirty-seven different nations. Its news is published daily in seventeen different languages.

By reason of its truly international character and the consequent obligation to avoid any nationalistic bias the United Press collects its foreign news independently. It has no alliance with any foreign government subsidized agency. On the other hand, the Associated Press is prohibited from any world-wide sale or direct distribution of American news in a large part of the world by reason of its news exchange agreement with the international news combine consisting of the A. P., Reuter in England, Wolff in Germany, Havas in France, Stefani in Italy, Tass in Russia and Renzo in Japan.

While no Scripps-Howard newspaper would be willing to depend upon the dispatches of the Associated Press alone, the merits of that great agency are fully recognized. In our opinion, however, its value is the only one of its kind. The A. P. conditions and paper may receive a compelling news naturally, perhaps, limit allowed and make these conditions to the rival news service. As a further condition associated Press, under cover semi-mutually, claims a right in all local news and is any number paper from rural to any rival news agency and news item which that paper has bought and paid for or has secured for itself through the paper's own efforts. These bylaws are monopolistic in their objective and prejudicial to a free press.

Consequently, had the Telegram continued a member of the Associated Press it would have had to agree to waive all rights to dispose of its own news product as to withhold from the United Press which it regards as its most valuable service, all local news collected by Telegram reporters.

At various times Scripps-Howard newspapers have acquired and voluntarily relinquished A. P. memberships in Toledo, Ohio; Youngstown, Ohio; Akron, Ohio; in Memphis and Knoxville, Tenn., and recently two, one morning and one evening, in Denver, Colo.

Other publishers, quite as competent judges as Scripps-Howard will regard our action as unwelcome. Some, doubtless, will watch the situation with interest, not because it is a new one but because it is New York. Under no circumstance is the action of the Telegram to be regarded as an unfriendly gesture toward the Associated Press management.

In Manhattan and Brooklyn evening papers depend solely the Associated Press, five depend exclusively on the United Press and two use both services.

The United Press and the Associated Press represent two different plans of operation. Not the two great agencies themselves but the entire press of the United States will benefit by a continuance of their keen competition. That American newspapers have attained news efficiency unequalled by the press of any other nation is in no small measure attributable to the fact that they have not depended upon a single, monopolistic or semi-monopolistic service.

A Wish

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

WHETHER children are obedient or disobedient is largely dependent on standards required by their environment and the attitude of those in it. Sometimes our method to gain obedience is the cause of apparent ill the child is engrossed in play, or a new book, the carelessly shouted on grown-up may go unheeded because the child resents the interruption or ignores his individual interests. A child should be treated as a courteous adult. He has plans and affairs of his own which are just as important as grown-up occupations could ever be. "If these plans are interfered with with some explanation and consideration for the child. For instance, when time comes and he is reading or drawing, ask him a few minutes early get ready for bed when that chapter or that picture is finished, and so on the opportunity for resentment, which would probably, yes and legitimate if he is suddenly wrenched from an absorbing interest.

WHEN I'm reading a story
Of brownies and elves,
Or of fairies who dance on the flowers;
Of giants, or knights
Who go fighting to win fair ladies
Who dream in their bowers.
I wish
That I weren't obliged to obey
The grown-ups who happen to call.
I wish
That they'd say,
"Come as soon as you're through,"
Or else not start calling at all!
